Technology in Postwar America Carroll W. Pursell, 2007 Carroll Pursell tells the story of the evolution of American technology since World War II His fascinating and surprising history links pop culture icons with landmarks in technological innovation and shows how postwar politics left their mark on everything from television automobiles and genetically engineered crops to contraceptives Tupperware and the Veg O Matic Just as America s domestic and international policies became inextricably linked during the Cold War so did the nation s public and private technologies The spread of the suburbs fed into demands for an interstate highway system which itself became implicated in urban renewal projects Fear of slipping into a postwar economic depression was offset by the creation of a consumers republic in which buying and using consumer goods became the ultimate act of citizenship and a symbol of an American Way of Life Pursell begins with the events of World War II and the increasing belief that technological progress and the science that supported it held the key to a stronger richer and happier America He looks at the effect of returning American servicemen and servicewomen and the Marshall Plan which sought to integrate Western Europe into America s economic business and technological structure He considers the accumulating problems associated with American technological supremacy which by the end of the 1960s led to a crisis of confidence Pursell concludes with an analysis of how consumer technologies create a cultural understanding that makes political technologies acceptable and even seem inevitable while those same political technologies provide both form and content for the technologies found at home and at work By understanding this history Pursell hopes to advance a better understanding of the postwar American self America, History and Life, 2007 Article abstracts and citations of reviews and dissertations covering the United States and Canada Index to American Reference Books Annual, 2000

American Studies as Media Studies Frank Kelleter, Daniel Stein, 2008 Media are an inescapable part of collectively shared realities shaping our daily lives in complex and frequently unintelligible ways In the wake of recent changes in the field of American Studies questions of medium and mediality have become a central venue for interdisciplinary research and intradisciplinary self examination This volume collects twenty three essays first presented at the 53rd conference of the German Association of American Studies All of the essays are concerned in one way or another with the aesthetics and materiality of media They cover a variety of topics ranging from the intermediality of American literature and the visual mediality of film and photography to the role of media in American politics and the impact of the internet The volume is divided into five segments The Book as Medium and the Mediality of Literature Visual Culture Intermediality Image Music Text Politics and the Public Sphere The Didactics of Media Studies Print Martha T. Mooney, 1995 Excerpts from and citations to reviews of more than 8 000 books each year from 109 publications Electronic version with expanded coverage and retrospective version available see p 5 and p 31 Pricing Service Basis Books The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2009 Library & Information Science Abstracts , 2006 Victorian West Clarence Robert Haywood, 1991 In this fascinating social history Haywood unravels the web of values ideas and philosophies that tied East to West Journal of American History
