A Textlinguistic Analysis of Selected Old Testament Texts in Matthew 1-4 Jeffery L. Capshaw, 2004 Using a specific variety of modern textlinguistics known to some as discourse analysis Capshaw Greek and Bible Clearwater Christian College Florida investigates how Old Testament passages function at a larger discourse level where they are quoted in the New Testament which requires determining the discourse type of the biblical book hosting the Old Testament texts as well In addition to providing insight into specific passages in Matthew he also demonstrates how the approach could be used in other New Testament narratives Annotation 2004 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com

Communicating with Quotes Joyce Penfield, 1983 The use of quotations or proverbs to convey a message is an important communication technique in the Igbo society of southeastern Nigeria Penfield contends that there are few if any satisfactory ethnographic investigations of where why how and by whom or among whom proverbs are used and the range of interactional situations in which they are used Such a study Penfield believes would reveal the significant patterns and values of a particular society and suggest concepts that would be useful in developing a general theory of quoting behavior and the use of proverbs

Poverty in the Book of Proverbs Lechion Peter Kimilike, 2008 The growth of the Christian church in sub Saharan Africa is reflected in a wide range of attempts at contextualizing Christian theology and biblical interpretation in Africa Theologians and biblical scholars relate the historical traditions and sources of Christianity to the socio and religio cultural context of Africa This series aims at making African theology and biblical interpretation its subject as well as object as the concerns of African theologians and biblical interpreters will be analyzed

Strangers Within the Realm Bernard Bailyn, Philip D. Morgan, 2012-12-01 Shedding new light on British expansion in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries this collection of essays examines how the first British Empire was received and shaped by its subject peoples in Scotland Ireland North America and the Caribbean An introduction surveys British imperial historiography and provides a context for the volume as a whole The essays focus on specific ethnic groups Native Americans African Americans Scotch Irish and Dutch and Germans and their relations with the British as well as on the effects of British expansion in particular regions Ireland Scotland Canada and the West Indies A conclusion assesses the impact of the North American colonies on British society and politics Taken together these essays represent a new kind of imperial history one that portrays imperial expansion as a dynamic process in which the outlying areas not only the English center played an important role in the development and character of the Empire The collection interprets imperial history broadly examining it from the perspective of common folk as well as elites and discussing the clash of cultures in addition to political disputes Finally by examining shifting and multiple frontiers and by drawing parallels between outlying provinces these essays move us closer to a truly integrated story that links the diverse ethnic experiences of the first British Empire The contributors are Bernard Bailyn Philip D Morgan Nicholas Canny Eric Richards James H Merrell A G Roeber Maldwyn A Jones Michael Craton J M Bumsted and Jacob M Price
