Communication Views From The Helm For The 21st Century:

Communication Judith S. Trent, 1998 Intended to provide a century's end overview of where the entire field of communication is heading the speeches reprinted here were given at the 1996 national convention of the Speech Communication Association Some of the most prominent researchers active in the discipline were asked to review the state of the art in their area of specialization to limn new areas promising for study and to help chart the course for the further study into the next century Commissioned by Judith S Trent president of the National Communication Association the speeches reprinted here include valuable and insightful overviews from such diverse areas as interpersonal communication studies to examinations of the volatile realms of politics and organizations to discussions of emerging issues like gender health and education to descriptions of the contributions provided by critical lenses like social theory and cultural studies All provide a broad look at where the field is where it has emerged from and most importantly where it is going A joint venture of the National Communication Association and Allyn Bacon this volume will serve both as a text for graduate and undergraduate students taking courses like Communication Theory Communication Education and Introduction to Communication Studies and as a valuable resource for scholars and teachers in the field While Allyn Bacon will make this volume broadly available to its customers and to interested members of the profession free of charge the text will also be available for course adoption at a reasonable price Proceeds from sales of the text for class adoption will be placed in a special fund administered by the National Communication Association and used to sponsor professional activities for graduate students at future annual national conventions

Communication Yearbook 24 William Gudykunst, 2012-03-22 Communication Yearbook 24 originally published in 2001 comprises essays that address the current status of theory and research in each division and interest group of the International Communication Association ICA It focusses on the following questions What are the parameters of the division interest group and what is the relationship of the division within other groups What are the major theories used and what research is there to support these theories What are the major lines of research and what are the main issues with which scholars must cope in the twenty first century Africa in the 21st Century Ama Mazama, 2007-11-21 Africa in the 21st Century Toward a New Future brings together some of the finest Pan African and Afrocentric intellectuals to discuss the possibilities of a new future where the continent claims its own agency in response to the economic social political and cultural problems which are found in every nation The volume is structured around four sections I African Unity and Consciousness Assets and Challenges II Language Information and Education III African Women Children and Families and IV Political and Economic Future of the African World In original essays the authors raise the level of discourse around the questions of integration pluralism families a federative state and good governance Each writer sees in the continent the potential for greatness and therefore articulates a theoretical and philosophical approach to Africa that constructs a victorious consciousness from hard concrete facts This book will interest students and scholars of the history and politics of Africa as well as professional Africanists Africologists and international studies scholars who are inclined toward Africa

The Global Intercultural Communication Reader Molefi Kete Asante, Yoshitaka Miike, Jing Yin, 2013-06-26 The Global Intercultural Communication Reader is the first anthology to take a distinctly non Eurocentric approach to the study of culture and communication In this expanded second edition editors Molefi Kete Asante Yoshitaka Miike and Jing Yin bring together thirty two essential readings for students of cross cultural intercultural and international communication This stand out collection aims to broaden and deepen the scope of the field by placing an emphasis on diversity including work from authors across the globe examining the processes and politics of intercultural communication from critical historical and indigenous perspectives The collection covers a wide range of topics the emergence and evolution of the field issues and challenges in cross cultural and intercultural inquiry cultural wisdom and communication practices in context identity and intercultural competence in a multicultural society the effects of globalization and ethical considerations Many readings first appeared outside the mainstream Western academy and offer diverse theoretical lenses on culture and communication practices in the world community Organized into five themed sections for easy classroom use The Global Intercultural Communication Reader includes a detailed bibliography that will be a crucial resource for today s students of intercultural communication

Voicing Relationships Leslie A. Baxter, 2010-01-19 One of the field s most respected scholars advances a dialogic perspective on communication in personal and familial relationships presenting the next iteration of relational dialectics theory RDT This is an excellent book and moves one of the major theories in the social sciences forward in very innovative ways Indeed this book extends beyond RDT by addressing limitations in the family interpersonal and personal relationships literature I believe this book will prompt many discussions among theorists and researchers in those areas and has the potential to provide exciting new directions in the study of relationships Glen H Stamp Ball State University Leslie A Baxter is offering up something here that is desperately needed and fills a big hole for those who adopt RDT as their theoretical framework I found the conceptual content of the book to be clear compelling and provoking The chapter on contrapuntal analysis is the only one of its kind Melissa Wood Alem n James Madison University Voicing Relationships presents a dialogic perspective on relating inspired by the dialogism work of the Russian theorist of literature and culture Mikhail Bakhtin Written by Leslie A Baxter one of the theory s originators this groundbreaking book presents the next iteration of the theory along with a methodological primer for contrapuntal analysis that includes guiding readers through a sample analysis Developing a rich palette of dialogic concepts useful in the study of interpersonal communication the book s central argument is that meaning making emerges from the clash of competing systems of meaning or discourses Relationship communication is embedded in culture history difference and conceptions of the ideal In addition the book gives us a method by which to study communication dialogically contrapuntal analysis Key Features Centers communication at the heart of relationships with an interdisciplinary focus on communication from fields such as psychology social work and sociology Offers an up to date distillation of two decades of relevant research to organize major findings and issues Moves scholars and students beyond simplistic uses of relational dialectics or using the dialectical pairs in overly simplistic cookie cutter ways Provides scholars and students with guidance in using RDT to guide their own research Intended Audience Voicing Relationships is ideal for use in a wide range of courses such as Interpersonal Communication Family Studies Couples Marriage and Family and Counseling Persuasion and Influence in American Life Gary C. Woodward, Robert E. Denton, Jr., 2013-12-23 For more than twenty five years the authors have highlighted the complexities subtleties and pervasive influence of persuasive messages The seventh edition again blends historical rhetorical and social psychological approaches to persuasion theory The engaging discussions and multiple examples introduce the intricacies of social influence and highlight methods of presentation as well as evaluation The dynamic topic of persuasion presents a constantly changing palette for analysis The authors dissect theory and practice in multiple contexts from interpersonal interactions to public communication and persuasive campaigns to advertising to politics Twitter YouTube and social networking sites offer new media for persuasive appeals The means of persuading one another changes constantly yet much of what was written by Aristotle continues to be relevant The production of persuasive messages and the study of message effects have been and will continue to be fertile ground for exploration Persuasion is an interactive process requiring willing and attentive participants Becoming responsible ethical and credible persuaders involves systematic thinking and informed preparation The skills required for planning composing and delivering effective messages are equally useful for evaluating messages received The seventh edition provides a thorough up to date discussion of classic and contemporary theories of persuasion to aid readers in developing skills as effective persuaders and as critical consumers of persuasive messages Wedding as Text Wendy Leeds-Hurwitz, 2002-12-18 This volume using intercultural weddings as its focus examines what occurs when the signs codes of different cultures come into contact influence one another For scholars advanced level students of interpersonal nonverbal intercultural comm Teaching a College-level Communication Course Via Asynchronous Learning Networks F.
