Communication Skills For Working With Elders:

Communication Skills for Working with Elders Barbara Dreher, PhD, 2001-03-21 Dr Dreher's book is a concise and highly readable guide to developing and enhancing one's communication skills for the betterment of the elderly person's quality of life. It clearly has a place on the bookshelf of every layman and professional alike who interacts with elderly people. Gerontology and Geriatrics Education about the first edition extremely useful as a teaching tool. Geriatric Nursing about the first edition. This popular text provides practical guidelines for effective interaction with the elderly and presents techniques for overcoming common communication problems and disorders common among elders. New to this second edition are chapters addressing assisted living, the use of computers for communication, the Boomers, and new approaches for dealing with emotional strains of anxiety and depression among others. Each chapter concludes with exercises and activities designed to help readers practice and hone their skills. This book is ideal for courses in departments of gerontology, social work, nursing, and communication.

Communication Skills for Working with Elders Diya Quraishi, 2014-11-29 Being able to communicate effectively is the most important of all life skills. Communication is simply the act of transferring information from one place to another, whether this be vocally using voice, written using printed or digital media such as books, magazines, websites, or emails; visually using logos, maps, charts, or graphs; or non-verbally using body language, gestures, and the tone and pitch of voice. Effective communication skills are fundamental to success in many aspects of life. Many jobs require strong communication skills, and socially, people with improved communication skills usually enjoy better interpersonal relationships with friends and family. Effective communication is a key interpersonal skill, and by learning how we can improve our communication, we have many benefits. Communication is a two-way process, so improving communication involves both how we send and receive messages.
