

A dramatic scene of a burning building with a soldier in the foreground. The building is engulfed in large, bright orange and yellow flames, with thick black smoke rising into the sky. In the foreground, a soldier wearing a green helmet and a dark uniform is crouched behind a low wall or trench. He is holding a rifle, aiming it towards the right. The ground is dark and appears to be covered in ash or debris. The overall atmosphere is one of intense conflict and destruction.

On Guerrilla Warfare Tse-tung Mao, 2016-08-21 Mao Tse-tung was a Chinese communist revolutionary and founding father of the People's Republic of China which he governed as Chairman of the Communist Party of China from its establishment in 1949 until his death in 1976. His Marxist Leninist theories, military strategies and political policies are collectively known as Marxism Leninism Maoism or Mao Zedong Thought. Mao Tse-tung was a prolific writer of political and philosophical literature and military strategy. On Guerrilla Warfare is probably Mao Tse-tung's most popular philosophical treatise. Mao Tse-tung's On Guerrilla Warfare is his case for the extensive use of an irregular form of warfare as a military strategy in which small groups of combatants use mobile military tactics in the forms of ambushes and raids to combat a larger and less mobile formal army. On Guerrilla Warfare was written in 1937 to convince Chinese political and military leaders that guerilla style tactics were necessary for the Chinese to use in the Second Sino Japanese War. On Guerrilla Warfare is often required textbook reading in many courses that encompass subjects such as History Asia China and Military Strategy.

This study provides an account of the origins, course and outcome of the Malayan Emergency which pitted the Malayan Government against the Malayan Communist Party, its rural based guerilla army and their supporters. Drawing on the widest set of sources used to date, the study goes well beyond traditional analyses of the Emergency and examines not just the military but also the administrative, economic, political and social aspects of the guerrilla war. Taking a cue from the hearts and minds approach to the counter guerrilla warfare, the study examines the hypothesis that the battleground of any guerrilla war is the general population whose actions are crucial in deciding how the war unfolds. The author sets out in detail the evolution of the policies of the Malayan Government and the Malayan Communist Party and plots the fortune of each side as the sympathies, allegiances and actions of the people of Malaya were influenced by the constantly changing circumstances in which they found themselves. The study concludes by assessing the extent to which the lessons from the use of the hearts and minds approach in the Emergency maybe applied in the conduct of other counter insurgency campaigns and by examining the impact of the guerrilla warfare on the political and economic development of Malaya and Malaysia.
