Bemak,2011-10-20 Social Justice Counseling develops a new frontier in multicultural social justice work and is the next step toward alleviating the injustices faced by individuals in society Addressing issues of social class race and ethnicity and more this book reflects the shift in recent years towards social justice counseling for all mental health professionals It offers new and unique perspectives supplementing important social justice issues and enhancing the content taught in multicultural courses. The authors are leading authorities on multicultural and social justice counseling and have led the way to create a specialization with a nationally recognized program in multicultural social justice counseling. Strategies for Building Multicultural Competence in Mental Health and Educational Settings Madonna G. Constantine, Derald Wing Sue, 2005. A must read book for all mental health professionals wanting to keep up with today's most important clients' practical concrete hands on details from firsthand experts on ethnic populations. Richard Suinn PhD Colorado State University Past president 1999 American Psychological Association. The rich mosaic of racial and ethnic diversity defines our society now more than ever. For students and professional psychologists this translates into a critical need to address a range of cultural diversity issues as well as potential biases. Recently the American Psychological Association (APA) recognized the importance of cultural competence for psychologists through its adoption of its Multicultural Guidelines. Applying those guidelines to real world practice is both complex and challenging. Only one text brings it all into sharp focus. Strategies for Building Multicultural Competence in Mental Health and Educational Settings Edited and written by renowned multicultural experts this informative guide is full of concrete strategies and case examples all geared toward achieving the goal of culturally competent practice. Chapter by chapter it uses a variety of practice modalities in various settings to help all mental health professionals increase their familiarity and compliance with the APA Multicultural Guidelines. Beginning with a useful summary of the APA guidelines Strategies for Building Multicultural Competence in Mental Health and Educational Settings covers the guidelines relevance to Individual and group counseling, Couples and family counseling, Career counseling with people of color, Independent practice settings, Multicultural consultations and organizational change, Academic mental health training settings, Clinical and hospital settings, College counseling center settings, Elementary and secondary school settings. This timely reference also considers building multicultural competence around indigenous healing practices in clinical supervision contexts and in culturally sensitive research. Taken together the book is a much needed blueprint for making culturally informed decisions explaining how the multicultural initiatives you implement today can help shape the field's future.

Community and Agency Counseling Samuel T. Gladding, Deborah W. Newsome, 2004. With significantly expanded content and a strengthened emphasis on Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Programs (CACREP) standards this user friendly yet scholarly volume again provides comprehensive coverage of all aspects of community counseling. After a thorough introduction to the history and foundation of the discipline the authors examine the many roles and functions community counselors perform, the variety of settings in which their work is done and how that work differs from one client population to another. Emerging issues and trends in the field are given appropriate attention while first person narratives throughout the text explore specific challenges and opportunities associated with particular areas of expertise. For future community counselors facing a broad spectrum of settings and clients and specific demands related to
