Globalization and Community J.-L. Chodkiewicz, Raymond E. Wiest, 2004 Is globalization a myth or a new reality Is it an overwhelming and ineluctable process or can human communities control trajectories of change Is globalization fair and advantageous and if so for whom Whatever the answer to these questions globalization forces are upon us Some of the implications are examined in this collection The aim of the contributors is to discuss ways to use the new economic social and cultural forces of globalization to help renew the vitality of struggling or fledgling communities Over the last decade a new global economy has rapidly changed how we work do business communicate and even think Twenty scholars from different backgrounds look at the process and impact of globalization from a Canadian perspective discussing issues such as indigenous peoples land use and the effect of television on remote communities

And We Are Doing It! J. T. Ross Jackson, 2000 A brilliant scientist prominent financier and visionary described his experiences with developing ecovillages that restore our sense of community and our connection to the earth while providing us with environmentally sound and sustainable sources of livelihood Ross Jackson s vision contrasts sharply with the rootless money mad exploitive world of the global economy It is grounded in the practical experience of hundreds of ecovillage and green enterprise experiments that are being developed around the world Anyone interest in global regional or local environmentalism should read this book It is especially useful and inspiring to those who think good things can t be done This is a wonderful guide to the development of self sustaining green communities you can learn from the experiences of someone who has fought environmental battles and won It sets forth a clear practical feasible vision of the ecovillage How to do it and how to sustain it

Spiritual Values for Earth Community David G. Hallman, 2000 Contemporary threats to the earth and to human life suggest that for many people today the predominant values are consumerism economic globalisation and violence In the face of the potent destructive forces unleashed by such lifestyles this book argues that respecting the earth and building sustainable community call us to live out such spiritual values as gratitude humility sufficiency justice peace love faith and hope After an exposition of how each of these values motivates active engagement for earth community in Christian and other faith traditions the author presents a case study of how individuals and groups are seeking to put that value into practice Suggestions from group study and a bibliography enhance the value of this book for local study groups

Identity in Adolescence 4e Laura

Ferrer-Wreder, Jane Kroger, 2019-07-05 This fully revised fourth edition of Identity in Adolescence The Balance Between Self and Other presents four theoretical perspectives on identity development during adolescence and young adulthood and their practical implications for intervention Ferrer Wreder and Kroger consider adolescent identity development as the unique intersection of social and cultural forces in combination with individual factors that each theoretical model stresses in attempting to understand the identity formation process for contemporary adolescents Identity in Adolescence addresses the complex question of how adolescent identity forms and develops during adolescence and young adulthood and serves as the foundation for entering adult life The book is unique in its presentation of four selected models that address this process along with cutting edge research and the implications that each of these models hold for practical interventions This new edition has been comprehensively revised with five completely new chapters and three that have been extensively updated New special topics are also addressed including ethnic sexual and gender identity development the role of technology in adolescent identity development and ongoing identity development beyond adolescence The book is essential reading for advanced undergraduate and graduate students studying adolescent development self and social identity within developmental psychology social psychology and clinical psychology as well as practitioners in the fields of child welfare and mental health services social work youth and community work and counselling

The Policy of Law Mauro

Zamboni, 2007-11-19 The book focuses on the relationship between law and politics as perceived by the legal community and more specifically the transformation of politics into law After exploring the relationship between law and politics as considered by the major modern schools of legal theory the focus moves to the regions of interaction in which law and politics meet termed the policy of law The policy of law is characterized in this work as the stage of the law making process at which values entrenched in political decisions are transformed into legal concepts in order to fit the existing legal system The space labeled as policy of law is today mainly but not exclusively the domain of legal actors Consequently the identification of a branch of the legal discipline specifically devoted to the investigation of the transformations of values into law is given the policy of law analysis Finally whether and to what extent the policy of law analysis can be encompassed within the traditional legal discipline and more particularly as a part of jurisprudence is explored Zamboni ranges broadly and knowledgeably over vast areas of legal theory But it is no mere taxonomising his argument is valuable and original It is clear learned and never boring Zenon Bankowski University of Edinburgh

Recent Developments in Criminological Theory Scott A. Lukas, 2017-07-05 This volume contains recent and cutting edge articles from leading criminological theorists The book is organized into ten sections each representing the latest in the multi disciplinary orientations representing a cross section of contemporary criminological theory These sections include 1 Classical and Rational Choice 2 Biological and Biosocial 3 Psychological 4 Social Learning and Neutralization 5 Social Control 6 Social Ecology Sub cultural and Cultural 7 Anomie and Strain 8 Conflict and Radical 9 Feminist and Gender 10 Critical Criminologies Anarchist Postmodernist Peacemaking The articles were selected based on their contributions to advancing the field including ways in which the authors of each chapter understand the current theoretical tendencies of their respective approaches and how they envision the future of their theories Because of this the articles focus on theory rather than empirical research Of particular note is the tendency toward integration of different perspectives as described by editors Henry and Lukas in their original introduction to this volume
