Community Care In Britain Variations On A Theme:

Community Care in Perspective J. Welshman, J. Walmsley, 2006-10-31 This cohesive collection fills a major gap in medical and social history by offering a detailed account of community provision for so called vulnerable adults in the UK from 1948 to 2005 It examines key issues such as charity versus rights the role of the market in care provision and the changing construction of social categories

Caring for People in the Community Mike Titterton, 1994-01-01 This book critically examines the new agenda of welfare and assesses the implications for change for policy makers formal and informal carers and consumers including examinations of key topics such as care planning and case management

Social Work and Community Care Malcolm Payne, 1995-06-07 Social Work and Community Care makes a powerful case for the effective involvement of social work skills knowledge and values as part of the effective development of policy and multi professional practice in community care Malcolm Payne shows how ideas of community and community care are entwined with the development of social work and the social services Each stage of the community care process is examined in turn to show how social work liaison and interpersonal skills are needed in creating and implementing care packages effectively

Social Work Approaches in Health and Mental Health from Around the Globe Anna Metteri, Teppo Kroger, Anneli Pohjola, Pirkko-Liisa Rauhala, 2013-02-01 Overcome the challenges facing social workers today with international guidance Social Work Approaches in Health and Mental Health from Around the Globe is a valuable stepping stone toward an understanding of the diversity of methods utilized in social work for community health services This work stems from material gathered at the Third International Conference on Social Work in Health and Mental Health held in Tampere Finland In this book you will find new creative theoretical and practical orientations for designing developing and analyzing social work to help you produce policies and services in which clients can positively and productively invest Social Work Approaches in Health and Mental Health from Around the Globe covers a long period in the history of social work in health issues from theoretical treatises to empirical research and analyses of practices The book provides you with research case studies and existing international and national literature from India Botswana Taiwan Lithuania the United Kingdom Australia and the United States This resource explores the shared qualities of social work in health services throughout the world despite differences between countries in terms of culture social system and history Although these experts come from different parts of the world the book displays an emergence of similar issues and themes including the development of expertise for social workers in the health and mental health fields social work as an agent of change that crosses borders operates on many levels and across many dimensions of society community based care principles perspectives marginalized groups and the role of the social worker dual divisions becoming aware of and choosing a position in work practice

Reviewing Care Management for Older People Judith E. Phillips, Bridget Penhale, 1996 This book discusses the development and implementation of several models of care management Drawing together research to highlight the successes and the difficulties of translating the principles of care management into practice it examines this subject with particular reference to empowerment needs led assessment and multi disciplinary work      Essentials of Community Care Peter Sharkey,2017-09-16 The second edition of this guide to community care aimed at both health and social care practitioners offers a clear and structured introduction to present policy and practice It is illustrated throughout by pertinent case material and has been updated with the latest policy developments and new literature      Community Care in Practice Ralph Davidson,Susan Hunter,1994 The patterns and policies for community care which have been phased in since April 1991 present both a stimulus and a challenge This book is a collection of essays which provide an introduction to many of the complex issues facing social workers when planning and implementing these initiatives      Community Care Robin Means,Randall Smith,1994      Complex Policy Planning Philip Haynes,2018-08-13 First published in 1999 this book examines recent developments in the application of chaos and complexity theory to the applied social sciences and the implications for the government planning of social care services The study argues that there are fundamental limitations to traditional government political and managerial planning structures Chaos and complexity theory shows that the effects of time and space are critical aspects for planners to consider Small changes in isolated social or individual factors can have larger scale effects on the future validity of a policy programme In particular rigid linear statistical calculations like the Government Standard Spending Assessment can undermine the ability of local authorities to make realistic plans It is proposed that government political strategies and managerial methods of analysis need to better understand the complexity of information available to them New political and institutional typologies are required if planning activity is to evolve to be of optimal social value      Older People, Poverty, and Community Care Under the Tories David Barrett,1993 This study investigates whether community care policy and service delivery is rhetoric or reality The social policy and under pinning ideologies that surround community care are reviewed The qualitative research gives detailed descriptions of everyday life including the concerns of economic and political influences From the data the concept of economic fragility was developed Similar patterns of experience emerged for some groups of respondents these included connections with pervasive economics gender and the semiotic of language Further analysis highlighted conceptual connections at both a micro and macro theoretical level This includes marginalization processes for certain groups of older people into becoming problem populations Identification of a predictable career path for the Economically Fragile takes place This culminates in personal experimental journeys through the Social Incarceration Spiral Theoretical considerations are explored and some alternative policy proposals are made Finally it is argued that Community Care as an ideology current policy and service as propounded by the current Government is seriously flawed      Britain's Health System Donald Light,Annabelle May,1993      Caring in the Community Steve Trevillion,1992 Developing a social network approach to the issue of partnerships between workers agencies and consumers this work shows how to enable these partnerships to establish ways of operating which provide information share power and offer supports brokerage intervention and assessment      Community Care in Britain David J. Hunter, Gerald Wistow, 1987      At Home in the Community Alison Petch, 1992 This volume reports on an evaluation of eleven supported accommodation provisions for those with mental health problems The study was to explore through detailed interviews various aspects of quality of life as experienced by those living in projects In addition assessments were made by project staff of the social functioning and rehabilitation status of individuals Projects were visited at three six monthly intervals and 255 interviews were completed with 145 individuals Throughout the book the focus is both on general patterns across the projects and on the more detailed responses from individual projects Some comparative results are also presented from another Centre study on rehabilitation of psychiatric patients from a single hospital      The IHSM Health and Social Services Year Book ,1998      Public administration ,1987      Outward Bound Timothy A. Booth, Ken Simons, Wendy Booth, 1990 Current mental handicap policies aim to bring about a shift in responsibility and resources for residential care from large institutions to small homely units In practice this means closing long stay wards or complete hospitals and moving the patients out into the community This book examines the outcome of one such community care programme through the views and feelings of staff families and the movers involved It explores the experiences of two groups of people one of which moved out of long stay hospitals to take up places in locally based hostels while the other moved out of hostels into independent living accommodations in the community Based on the findings of a three year research project funded by the Joseph Rowntree memorial Trust the book addresses the personal issues and the policy implications of relocating people with learning difficulties in line with the government s plans for community care Back cover

The Scottish Government Yearbook ,1989      The Roles and Tasks of Community Mental Handicap Teams Stephen Brown, Gerald Wistow, 1990      Integrating Care Systems Dick Stockford, 1988
