Communitybuilding With Pacific Asia Triangle Papers:

Community-building with Pacific Asia Charles Edward Morrison, Akira Kojima, Hanns Maull, 1997 The thrust of this book is the need for community building with the emerging East and Southeast Asia on the part of the Trilateral areas Japan North America and Europe If Pacific Asia joins the Trilateral world as a region of economic prosperity security and good government the countries within a zone of peace will be dramatically extended Triangle Papers, 2001 Japanese Foreign Policy A. Fukushima, 1999-02-26 Japanese foreign policy in international political affairs particularly after the Second World War was criticized as relying solely on bilateralism and dismissed as blindly emulating American foreign policy This book examines Japanese multilateralism from the Paris Peace Conference in 1919 to its latest bid for a permanent seat on the UN Security Council At the threshold of the twenty first century the author asserts that Japan can play a more proactive role in the United Nations and in the Asia Pacific through its cooperative security approach with emphasis on prevention of conflicts The Triangle papers Anne-Marie Slaughter, 2004 Multilateral Asian Security Architecture See Seng Tan, 2015-07-16 This book provides a comparative assessment of the material and ideational contributions of five countries to the regional architecture of post Cold War Asia In contrast to the usual emphasis placed on the role and centrality of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN in Asia s multilateral architecture and its component institutions this book argues that the four non ASEAN countries of interest here 3 4 Australia Japan China and the United States 3 4 and Indonesia have played and continue to play an influential part in determining the shape and substance of Asian multilateralism from its pre inception to the present The work does not contend that existing scholarship overstates ASEAN s significance to the successes and failures of Asia s multilateral enterprise Rather it claims that the impact of non ASEAN stakeholders in innovating multilateral architecture in Asia has been understated Whether ASEAN has fared well or poorly as a custodian of Asia s regional architecture the fact remains that the countries considered here notwithstanding their present discontent over the state of that architecture are key to understanding the evolution of Asian multilateralism This book will be of much interest to students of Asian politics international organisations security studies and IR more generally The Greater Mekong Subregion and ASEAN Cambodian Institute for Cooperation and Peace, 2000 The Future of South-South Economic Relations Adil Najam, Rachel Thrasher, 2012-12-13 In recent years it has become apparent that South South economic relations are increasing and will continue to do so There will be more trade agreements and more trade more economic alliances and more political alliances with economic goals more investment flows and an increasing acknowledgement that the Global South has more to offer than it has in the past These new economics relations have great potential both for harm and for good In the absence of directed policies and intentional actors imbalances of power and growing gaps in development will persist With the right policies in place however these relationships could forge a new global order with greater economic and political equality Covering a wide range of topics including regional trade integration in Africa the environmental impact of increased South South trade the changing patterns of South South investment and the effect of conflict on trade in South Asia this ground breaking volume presents an analysis of South South economic relations and how they might impact and be impacted by the rest of the world Minilateralism in the Indo-Pacific Bhubhindar Singh, Sarah Teo, 2020-05-05 While US centred bilateralism and ASEAN led multilateralism have largely dominated the post Cold War regional security architecture in the Indo Pacific increasing doubts about their effectiveness have resulted in countries turning to alternative forms of cooperation such as minilateral arrangements Compared to multilateral groupings minilateral platforms are smaller in size as well as more exclusive flexible and functional Both China and the US have contributed to minilateral initiatives in the Indo Pacific In the case of the former there is the Lancang Mekong Cooperation mechanism involving China Cambodia Laos Myanmar Thailand and Vietnam established in 2015 In the case of the latter there has been a revival of the Quadrilateral Security Dialogue in 2017 involving the US Australia Japan and India This book examines the rise of these arrangements their challenges and opportunities as well as their impact on the extant regional security architecture including on the ASEAN led multilateral order A valuable guide for students and policy makers looking to understand the nature and development of minilateralism in the Indo Pacific region C. Fred Bergsten and the World Economy Michael Mussa, 2006 This engaging and informative book covers the range of issues on which C Fred Bergsten and the Peterson Institute have distinguished themselves over the last 25 years including trade liberalization exchange rate regimes international financial architecture debt economic sanctions and the impact of technology and globalization Most of the Institute s senior research staff have contributed chapters which are both retrospective and prescriptive Regional Cooperation in South Asia Shaheen Afroze, 2002 Contributed articles presented at the International Conference on Regional Cooperation in South Asia Interfacing New Dimensions and Perspectives held during 22-24 Oct 2000 in Dhaka Subject Catalog, 1982 Library of Congress, 1982 Internationale Politik, 1998-09 Building a Neighborly Community Daojiong Zha, Weixing Hu, 2006 Building a Neighborly Community explores the political economy of post cold war East Asian cooperation by examining the history of intra regional cooperation against the background of China s rise and Japan s relative decline both real and perceived The book in particular examines how East Asian states have dealt with the South China Sea as a region wide security challenge and the imperative for self help after the 1997 economic crisis Region Building in the Pacific Gavin Boyd, 1982 Tätigkeitsbericht Deutsches Übersee-Institut, 1998 Regional Approaches to Confidence- and Security-building Measures United Nations. Office for Disarmament Affairs, 1993 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2003 Pacific Research, 1990 □□□□□□□□□□, 2005 East Asia at a Crossroads Jusuf Wanandi, □□□, 2008-03 Efforts to build an East Asia community have gained momentum over the past decade In a period of dynamic change and shifting balances of power regional leaders seek to strengthen cooperation and stabilize relations between countries While community building is still at an early stage there is a growing sense it has reached a historic crossroads it can be further advanced or alternatively succumb to the region's many disparities and emerging rivalries In East Asia at a Crossroads leading policy experts from inside and outside the region analyze the dynamics of community building The contributors propose ways of moving forward to enhance regional peace and prosperity while strengthening East Asia's capacity to meet its growing global responsibilities Contributors include Jesus Estanislao Institute of Corporate Directors and the Institute for Solidarity in Asia Carolina G Hernandez University of the Philippines and Institute for Strategic and Development Studies Frank Jannuzi U S Senate Committee on Foreign Relations Karl Kaiser Harvard University Qin Yaqing China Foreign Affairs University Rizal Sukma CSIS Jakarta and Hitoshi Tanaka JCIE
