Narayan's The Guide Krishna Sen, 2004 The essays in this book have been divided into two sections The first section examines one of Narayan s major works The Guide The essays here discuss the genesis of the novel narrative structure use of language humour and irony in the novel the characters and also the post colonial quality of The Guide The second section situates The Guide within the larger context of Narayan s life and works Narayan as a novelist themes and characters in his novels Narayan s Malgudi and Narayan as an Indian English writer These essays will be essential reading for students who study The Guide and also Narayan s works as a whole Colonial Discourse and Post-colonial Theory Patrick Williams, Laura Chrisman, 1994 Provides an in depth introduction to debates within post colonial theory and criticism The many contributors include Frantz Fanon Amilcar Cabral Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak Homi Bhabha Edward Said Anthony Giddens Anne McClintock Stuart Hall Paul Gilroy and bell hooks Eating and Identity in Postcolonial Fiction Paul Vltos, 2018-10-11 This book focuses on the fiction of four postcolonial authors V S Naipaul Anita Desai Timothy Mo and Salman Rushdie It argues that meals in their novels act as sites where the relationships between the individual subject and the social identities of race class and gender are enacted Drawing upon a variety of academic fields and disciplines including postcolonial theory historical research food studies and recent attempts to rethink the concept of world literature it dedicates a chapter to each author tracing the literary cultural and historical contexts in which their texts are located and exploring the ways in which food and the act of eating acquire meanings and how those meanings might clash collide and be disputed Not only does this book offer suggestive new readings of the work of its four key authors but it challenges the reader to consider the significance of food in postcolonial fiction more generally

Critiquing the Postcolonial Construct in Chinua Achebe's Novels Ranjana Das Sarkhel, 2018-11-21 Chinua Achebe's novels have always been read as texts from an erstwhile colonised African nation interpreted within the parameters suggested by postcolonial theorists The confines of postcolonial readings have raised questions about when the postcolonial period would end so that writers would no longer need to write back to the empire or rewrite their histories This work explores how Achebe's novels articulate his knowledge of his own people and the manner in which he participates in the politics of representation He critiques the postcolonial methodology and seeks out recovers and provides an alternative narrative of the postcolonial experience and its aftermath even as he seems to be moving beyond it Achebe's narratives do not conform to the postcolonial constructs of history as telling rather than recalling and of nations in terms of states rather than people Achebe combines the techniques available to historians documentation with those of novelists the imaginative re-creation of events for his fictional evocation of the past He emphasises both the African artists role in helping to create a more egalitarian society and that of the act of storytelling as a shaping force in people's lives As he negotiates between his narrative form and realistic subject matter Achebe puts forward a powerful critique of colonisation and its aftermath Achebe represents a canonical voice in the emerging discourse of writers struggling to break free from the clichéd world of anti-imperialism and decolonisation

Vidiadhar Surajprasad Naipaul Fawzia Mustafa, 1995-09-07 This introductory study offers a critical overview of the major works of V S Naipaul from 1950 to the present day Professor Mustafa's main concern is with literary issues but historical political and cultural questions are also addressed with comparative references to other postcolonial works Paradoxically a major segment of Naipaul's non-western pro-decolonisation readership seized on negative elements in his thinking while Western reaction to his ideas and themes led to set notions about Third World society Thus his work has always been the object of radically divergent views dependent on the perspective of the reader In examining this issue Mustafa introduces general debates about postcolonial literary production and its contemporary interrogation of narrative techniques language gender race and canon formulation
