American Consumer Society, 1865 - 2005 Regina Lee Blaszczyk, 2009 This startlingly original and highly readable volume adds a new richness and depth to an element of U S history that is all too often taken for granted In American Consumer Society Regina Lee Blaszczyk examines the emergence of consumerism in the Victorian era and in tracing its evolution over the next 140 years shows how the emergence of a mass market was followed by its fragmentation Niche marketing focused on successive waves of new consumers as each made its presence known Irish immigrants urban African Americans teenagers computer geeks and soccer moms to name but a few Blaszczyk demonstrates that middle class consumerism is an intrinsic part of American identity but exactly how consumerism reflected that identity changed over time Initially driven to imitate those who had already achieved success Americans eventually began to use their purchases to express themselves This led to a fundamental change in American culture one in which the American reverence for things was replaced by a passion for experiences New Millennium families no longer treasured exquisite china or dress in fine clothes but they'll spare no expense on being able to make phone calls retrieve emails watch ESPN or visit web sites at any place any time Victorian mothers just wouldn't understand Using materials and techniques from business history art history anthropology sociology material culture and good story telling this lavishly illustrated and highly thoughtful narrative offers a compelling re interpretation of American culture through the lens of consumerism making it perfect for use not only as supplementary reading in the U S survey but also for a variety of courses in Business Culture Economics Marketing and Fashion and Design history
