Colorado Images From Above:

Colorado, Images from Above Tom Till, 1987-06-01 An unusual trek across Colorado's landscape by plane and hot air balloons so the state could be photographed from the air      Lost Ski Areas of Colorado's Central and Southern Mountains Caryn & Peter Boddie, 2015 Colorado's central and southern mountains still draw droves of skiers to the slopes. However many of the historic runs and areas that were popular over the past century some near the current resorts of Aspen Breckenridge Crested Butte Purgatory Telluride and Vail no longer exist. Local hills like Whittaker Ranch near Eagle featured little more than a rope tow and warming hut. Now underneath Lake Dillon Prestrud Jump hosted tournaments where Olympian Anders Haugen broke ski jumping world records. From Lands End near Grand Junction to Sugarite near Trinidad from swanky Hoosier Pass in Summit County to Stoner in Montezuma County authors Caryn and Peter Boddie take readers on a tour of the lost ski areas of central and southern Colorado      Framing Nature Yolonda Youngs, 2024-06 Winner of the 2024 John Brinkerhoff Jackson Prize from American Association of Geographers The Grand Canyon of the Colorado River is an internationally known feature of the North American landscape attracting more than five million visitors each year. A deep cultural visual and social history has shaped the Grand Canyon's environment into one of America's most significant representations of nature. Yet the canyon is more than a vacation destination a movie backdrop or a scenic viewpoint it is a real place as well as an abstraction easily summoned in the minds of Americans. The Grand Canyon or the idea of it is woven into the fabric of American cultural identity and serves as a cultural reference point an icon. In Framing Nature Yolonda Youngs traces the idea of the Grand Canyon as an icon and the ways people came to know it through popular imagery and visual media. She analyzes and interprets more than fourteen hundred visual artifacts including postcards maps magazine illustrations and photographs of the Grand Canyon supplemented with the words and ideas of writers artists explorers and other media makers from 1869 to 2022. Youngs considers the manipulation and commodification of visual representations and shifting ideas values and meanings of nature exploring the interplay between humans and their environments and how visual representations shape popular ideas and meanings about national parks and the American West. Framing Nature provides a novel interpretation of how places especially national parks are transformed into national and environmental symbols.
