with illegal activities such as cigarette trafficking and tax evasion scams that result in a loss of tax revenue for state and federal governments On the national security front experts and policymakers have expressed concern over a possible nexus between organised crime and terrorism Despite the difference in motivation for organised crime profit and terrorism ideology the linking element of the two is money This book consists of public documents which have been located gathered combined reformatted and enhanced with a subject index selectively edited and bound to provide easy access Justice and Home Affairs Ayhan Bakar, 2012-12-04 This study aims to portray the conditions for the transposition of EU standards into the internal security of applicant states with a focus on Turkey The analysis evaluates the conditions that determine the EU's success in effecting changes in the internal security of Turkey Campaigns against organised crime terrorism and drugs were selected as case studies to make an assessment of different policy domains under Justice and Home Affairs JHA In doing so this study aims to explore how the EU operates the external dimension of JHA in applicant states and under which conditions the EU is able to ensure alignment with JHA Numerous interviews were conducted with officials at security institutions and public agencies in Turkey as well as in the EU as part of the analysis Legislation government decisions internal training documents strategy papers and security assessment reports were also reviewed to uncover the influence of the EU on Turkey This book will add value to studies undertaken in academia focusing on EU Turkey relations JHA and the fight against transnational crime EU Counter Terrorism Strategy, Programs and Activities Handbook Volume 1 Strategic Information and Materials IBP USA, Combating Trafficking in Human Beings for Labour Exploitation Conny Rijken, 2011 Combating trafficking in human beings THB for labor exploitation requires additional skills knowledge and awareness for effective investigation and prosecution and for the identification and assistance of victims of this form of THB Actors other than the police and the prosecution services such as labor inspectorates social investigation services and municipalities have also become involved in these activities It is unclear which role these actors can have in identifying victims and in investigating and prosecuting cross border THB for labor exploitation and which improvements are needed They are often unfamiliar with for instance the specific needs of victims how trafficking networks operate and how to cooperate with colleagues abroad These problems obviously hamper the combating of THB for labor exploitation In addition difficulties in defining THB for labor exploitation still exist Labor exploitation as such is not a term used in the Palermo Protocol or the EU Directive on Preventing and Combating THB and Protecting Victims One can say that labor exploitation includes at least forced and compulsory labor and services slavery and slavery like practices although this does not solve the problems encountered in defining the crime In this book these and other problems as well as the challenges of dealing with these problems are identified It includes research in five countries Austria The Netherlands Romania Serbia and Spain research on the EU legal framework an analysis of the country studies as well as four articles reflecting on these problems show that illegitimate and legitimate environments intermingle Although these interfaces are a threat to the legitimate world they also offer opportunities for prevention The message is simple if criminal organizations are able to easily acquire or access resources then the number of these resources should be reduced or made more difficult to acquire or access Therefore this study identifies opportunities that facilitate organized crime and presents measures to prevent them
