Combating terrorism federal agencies' efforts to implement national policy and strategy : report to congressional requesters , Combating terrorism spending on governmentwide programs requires better management and coordination : report to congressional requesters , Emergency Response Handbook for Chemical and Biological Agents and Weapons John R. Cashman,2008-03-31 Updated to reflect the numerous advances that have evolved since the September 11 terrorist attacks Emergency Response Handbook for Chemical and Biological Agents and Weapons Second Edition maintains its reputation as a comprehensive training manual for emergency responders to incidents involving nuclear biological and chemical materials No Greater Threat C. William Michaels,2002 Completely updated for 2005 Includes PATRIOT Act II Supreme Court decisions National Strategy documents 9 11 Commission recommendations and various ongoing developments nationally and internationally in the war on terrorism Terrorism, Asymmetric Warfare, and Weapons of Mass Destruction Anthony H. Cordesman,2001-11-30 There is a wide spectrum of potential threats to the U S homeland that do not involve overt attacks by states using long range missiles or conventional military forces Such threats include covert attacks by state actors state use of proxies independent terrorist and extremist attacks by foreign groups or individuals and independent terrorist and extremist attacks by residents of the United States These threats are currently limited in scope and frequency but are emerging as potentially significant issues for future U S security In this comprehensive work Cordesman argues that new threats require new thinking and offers a range of recommendations from expanding the understanding of what constitutes a threat and bolstering Homeland defense measures to bettering resource allocation and improving intelligence gathering and analysis No pattern of actual attacks on U S territory has yet emerged that provides a clear basis for predicting how serious any given form of attack might be in the future what means of attack might be used or how lethal new forms of attack might be As a result there is a major ongoing debate over the seriousness of the threat and how the U S government should react This work is an invaluable contribution to that debate Combating Terrorism Stephen L. Caldwell,1997-11 The threat of terrorist attacks against U S citizens and property both at home and abroad has been an issue of growing national concern This report provides information on national policy and strategy to combat terrorism and federal agencies roles and responsibilities in implementing them Specifically the report discusses agencies programs and activities to 1 prevent and deter terrorism 2 respond to terrorist threats or incidents and 3 manage the consequences of a terrorist act especially involving weapons of mass destruction The report also provides information on interagency coordination mechanisms intended to facilitate information sharing and enhance operational links Charts and tables Combating Terrorism United States. General Accounting Office, 1997 Combating Terrorism U S Government Accountability Office (G, U. S. Government Accountability Office (, 2013-06 The U S Government Accountability Office GAO is an independent agency that works for Congress The GAO watches over Congress and investigates how the federal government spends taxpayers dollars The Comptroller General of the United States is the leader of the GAO and is appointed to a 15 year term by the U S President The GAO wants to support Congress while at the same time doing right by the citizens of the United States They audit investigate perform analyses issue legal decisions and report anything that the government is doing This is one of their reports The Middle East, Abstracts and Index , 2004 Public Administration Review Leonard Dupee White, 2002 Includes section Reviews of books and documents Terrorism in America Harvey W. Kushner, 1998 Written by an internationally recognized expert on terrorism antigovernment violence and extremism this text will be a handy reference for criminal justice and security administration professionals in the public and private sectors Actual case examples are used to illustrate specific groups and freelancers throughout the book including the Oklahoma City bombing American Foreign Policy and Treaty Index , 1998 Super Terrorism Yonah Alexander, Milton M. Hoenig, 2001 The future is likely to witness a growing number of mass destruction acts carried out by ideologically motivated loosely organized terrorist networks that operate independently of state sponsorship and have access to the funding materials and increasing technological sophistication While there is agreement on the possible consequences of super terrorism there has been robust disagreement on the kind of investment that should be made in preparedness and response to biological chemical and nuclear terrorist attacks Gearing Up and Getting There Brian K. Houghton, 2004 This dissertation identifies policies and organizational options at the local level that could save lives and reduce injury likely to occur from an act of chemical terrorism It seeks out low cost ways to improve the current performance level in responding to chemical terrorism using Los Angeles as a case study The dissertation attempts to determine the level of risk of chemical terrorism in Los Angeles and identify the anticipated magnitude for which emergency responders and decisionmakers should plan Then it considers current capability and performance levels in chemical terrorism response and determines a performance goal for response to the planning magnitude Through modeling and simulation the dissertation presents low cost options in equipment training organization and doctrine that could improve the response to a chemical terrorist event Finally the dissertation examines these options in terms of budget considerations in Los Angeles The dissertation s findings point to decentralizing counter chemical terrorism equipment throughout the Los Angeles metropolitan area reformulating those doctrinal policies that may inadvertently slow the mitigation process establishing low cost training methods to enhance the specialized knowledge needed to respond effectively putting polices in place to accelerate the decontamination process and focusing on an all hazards approach to preparedness Terrorism Reader Gabrielle Perry,2001 At 8 48 on the morning of 11 September 2001 terrorism captured the minds of America and the world The horrific devastation wrought at the World Trade Center at the Pentagon and in Pennsylvania has spurred a fervent interest into the nature of terrorism Who are these terrorists Who sponsors them How can the US defend itself This book presents a collection of papers examining these questions with special attention to how we can expect the American government to respond to the recent attacks in particular and terrorism in general Criminal Justice Newsletter ,1997 The Eye of the Believer Jonathan M. Schachter,2002 This research examines social psychological aspects of the foreign and counter terrorism policy making processes It presents common psychological biases that affect understanding the behavior of foreign actors in general and of sub state terrorist groups in particular and discusses the impact these biases can have on policies and ways in which the effects of these biases can be limited in the future It concludes by presenting a critical analysis of specific counter terrorism policy options for the near and long term with a particular emphasis on meeting America s stated policy objective of deterring future terrorism The study 5 findings will be of interest to the intelligence community to foreign defense and counter terrorism policy makers and analysts and to scholars interested in understanding past counter terrorism policies with an eye to improving future policy choices
