Combined Methods in Indology and Other Writings Damodar Dharmanand Kosambi, 2002 D D Kosambi was a pioneer in Indian studies introducing new perspectives and interdisciplinary methods This book collects many of his most important writings on a wide range of topics from philology and text editing to religion historical reconstruction archaeology and anthropology This anthology is the first to give readers easy access to this versatile and influential body of work

Roots and Routes of Development in China and India Jos Gommans, Harriet Zurndorfer, 2008-10-31 This volume brings together some of the very best of half a century of enduring scholarship in the Journal of the Economic and Social History of the Orient The selected articles show how historians have developed their understanding of economic and social change in China and India As introduced by two of its current editors these seminal studies not only demonstrate the crucial contributions of JESHO but also reflect the various scholarly tendencies in their respective fields Hence this volume offers readers a unique opportunity to critically compare the historical and the historiographical roots and routes of the modern development of these two new global superpowers The contributions in this volume have been previously published as articles in Brill s journal Journal of the Economic and Social History of the Orient Please see the table of contents for more information

A Companion to Global Historical Thought Prasenjit Duara, Viren Murthy, Andrew Sartori, 2014-03-17 A COMPANION TO GLOBAL HISTORICAL THOUGHT A Companion to Global Historical Thought provides an overview of the development of historical thinking from the earliest times to the present directly addressing issues of historiography in a globalized context Questions concerning the global dissemination of historical writing and the relationship between historiography and other ways of representing the past have become important not only in the academic study of history but also in public arenas in many countries With contributions from leading international scholars the book considers the problem of the global in the multiplicity of traditions of narrating the past in the global dissemination of modern historical writing and of the global as a concept animating historical imaginations It explores the different intellectual approaches that have shaped the discipline of history and the challenges posed by modernity and globalization while illustrating the shifts in thinking about time and the emergence of historical thought Complementing A Companion to Western Historical Thought this book places non Western perspectives on historiography at the center of discussion helping scholars and students alike make sense of the discipline at the start of the twenty first century

Studying Early India Brajadulal Chattopadhyaya, 2006 A focal study of the methodological changes that confront historians of pre colonial India

The Origins of Yoga and Tantra Geoffrey Samuel, 2008-03-27 Yoga tantra

and other forms of Asian meditation are practised in modernized forms throughout the world today but most introductions to Hinduism or Buddhism tell only part of the story of how they developed This book is an interpretation of the history of Indic religions up to around 1200 CE with particular focus on the development of yogic and tantric traditions It assesses how much we really know about this period and asks what sense we can make of the evolution of yogic and tantric practices which were to become such central and important features of the Indic religious scene Its originality lies in seeking to understand these traditions in terms of the total social and religious context of South Asian society during this period including the religious practices of the general population with their close engagement with family gender economic life and other pragmatic concerns

The Oxford India Kosambi Damodar Dharmanand Kosambi, 2009 The Oxford India Collection is a series which brings together writings of enduring value published by OUP This book examines rare and scattered essays notes and reviews of D D Kosambi He introduced pioneering perspectives and methods in Indological studies written and published over almost thirty years These writings cover an enormous range text edition and philology religion historical reconstruction archaeology and anthropology considerations of method and so on Together they reflect an integrated framework which in Kosambi's own characterization was Marxist Many of Kosambi's seminal ideas were worked out in great depth in these scholarly articles published in different journals in India and abroad they have long remained outside the reach even of experts By attempting to be a comprehensive anthology the collection will for the first time enable readers to sample the versatility of Kosambi's work The introduction by B D Chattopadhyaya explores the genesis range and significance of Kosambi's writings

Righteous Republic Ananya Vajpeyi, 2012-10-31 What India's founders derived from Western political traditions is widely understood Less well known is how India's own rich knowledge traditions of 2 500 years influenced these men Vajpeyi furnishes this missing account showing how five founders turned to classical texts to fashion an original sense of Indian selfhood

The Past Before Us Romila Thapar, 2013-10-14 The claim that India uniquely among civilizations lacks historical writing distracts us from a more pertinent question how to recognize the historical sense of societies whose past is recorded in ways very different from European conventions Romila Thapar a distinguished scholar of ancient India guides us through a panoramic survey of the historical traditions of North India revealing a deep and sophisticated consciousness of history embedded in the diverse body of classical Indian literature The history recorded in such texts as the Ramayana and the Mahabharata is less concerned with authenticating persons and events than with presenting a picture of traditions striving to retain legitimacy amid social change Spanning an epoch from 1000 BCE to 1400 CE Thapar delineates three strains of historical writing an Itihasa Purana tradition of Brahman authors a tradition composed mainly by Buddhist and Jaina monks and scholars and a popular bardic tradition The Vedic corpus the epics the Buddhist canon and monastic chronicles inscriptional evidence regional accounts and literary forms such as royal biographies and drama are all scrutinized afresh not as sources to be mined for factual data but as genres that disclose how Indians of ancient times represented their own past to themselves Beyond Borders Ashish Kumar,2023-10-30 This book examines the economic history of ancient South Asia by situating the Malwa region of Central India within Afro Eurasian trade networks to illuminate the role of traders in the political religious and economic processes connected with the Indo Sasanian trade in the period of five centuries circa CE 300 700 The book challenges the long held centrality of the Roman factor in the South Asian economy by locating the Indo Sasanian interactions in long distance economic networks with trade as a central feature It considers the role and influence of traders as an understudied group affecting the contribution of the Indian economy to the world system Amidst rapidly changing political landscapes traders of Indian and Sasanian origins are studied as conscious political beings who formed ties with varieties of polities and religious communities to secure their commercial interests In addition their commercial interactions with their Sogdian Central Asia and Aksumite East Africa counterparts are analyzed The book also considers the nature of trade routes and the specific connections between mercantile and religious networks including patterns of construction of religious shrines and temples along trade routes Integrating epigraphic numismatic literary and archaeological evidence this book moves away from a marginal treatment of the Indo Sasanian trade in Indian history and demonstrates how regional economic history must address a plurality of causes actors and processes in its assessment of the regional economy The book will be of interest to students and academics of Indian economic history as well as the ancient economies of South Asia more broadly The Book Review ,2006 Essays on Medieval Indian History Satish Chandra,2003 The essays included in this volume explore the interconnections between society economy religion and state and their interaction with political processes in medieval India This is a valuable reference source for all students and scholars of Mughal history bringing together the various strands of a lifetime of work by a renowned medievalist

Historical Thinking in South Asia Michael Gottlob,2003 This is a sourcebook of historical culture in Modern South Asia an extremely relevant work in the context of the ongoing debate on history writing It informs about the many ways of dealing with the past as expressed in the works of prominent figures from different regional religious and social backgrounds and with divergent political orientation and ideological outlook Proceedings Indian History Congress,2008 Webs of History Indian History Congress. Session,Indian History Congress,Institute of Development Studies, Kolkata,2005 This Collection Of Essays Relates To The Interface Of Information Communication And Technology In India From The Early Period To The Present Twenty First Century The Contributors To The Volume Scholars With Diverse Dicipinary Backgrounds Offer Innovative Approaches In Re Engaging Themselves With A Theme That Is As Much A Part Of Our Heritage As It Is Of Current Relevance An Essential Reading For Students And Teachers Of History Mainstream Social Sciences Cultural And Gender Studies Islamic Contestations Barbara Daly Metcalf,2004 The essays in this volume written over the course of the last quarter century are intended to contribute to understanding the role that Islamic symbols and identities have come to play in Northern India and since 1947 in Pakistan Above all these essays offer a challenge to current negative stereotypes of the

Muslim faith demonstrating that the religion is not characterised by political militancy nor dominated by static traditionalism

Proceedings ,2006 Seminar ,2002 A Shared Heritage, the Growth of Civilizations in India and Iran Indian History Congress. Session,2002 The Essays In The Present Volume Are An Effort To Explore How Much The Growth Of Civilizations In India And Iran Owes To What Each Of These Countries Has Received From The Other And To Bring Out How Much Of Their History We Will Miss If We Overlook The Heritage They Share One Hundred Years of Kautilya's Arthasastra Pradeep Kumar Gautam,2013
