

An illustration of a desk setup for AI development. A large computer monitor is the central focus, displaying a black rectangular box with an orange border containing the text 'AI Chatbot Using Python' in white. The monitor's background shows a futuristic interface with a central circular window containing a smiling robot face, surrounded by various data visualizations like line graphs, bar charts, and icons. To the left of the monitor, a desk lamp with a blue shade is turned on, casting a warm glow. Below the lamp is a stack of books and a white coffee cup filled with dark liquid on a matching saucer. To the right of the monitor, a green plant with long, thin leaves sits in a grey pot. In the bottom right corner, a computer mouse with a blue cord is visible. The entire scene is set on a wooden desk against a light blue background.
