Delinking Towards A Polycentric World:

Delinking Samir Amin, 1990-04 Is it possible for the Third World to escape from the constraints imposed by the world's economic system? What room for manoeuvre do these states have and are they condemned to dependence? These are some of the questions Samir Amin confronts in Delinking. He argues that Third World countries cannot hope to raise living standards if they continue to adjust their development strategies in line with the trends set by a fundamentally unequal global capitalist system over which they have no control. The only alternative he maintains is for Third World societies to delink from the logic of the global system, each country submitting its external economic relations to the logic of domestic development priorities which in turn requires a broad coalition of popular forces in control of the state. Delinking he shows is not about absolute autarchy but a neutralizing of the effects of external economic interactions on internal choices.

Decolonization, Development and Knowledge in Africa Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni, 2020-04-30 This provocative book is anchored on the insurgent and resurgent spirit of decolonization of the twenty-first century. The author calls upon Africa to turn over a new leaf in the domains of politics, economy and knowledge as it frees itself from imperial global designs and global coloniality. With a focus on Africa and its Diaspora, the author calls for a radical turning over of a new leaf predicated on decolonial turn and epistemic freedom. The key themes subjected to decolonial analysis include: 1. decolonization, decoloniality, articulating the meaning and contribution of the decolonial turn; 2. subjectivity, identity, examining the problem of Blackness, identity as external and internal invention; 3. the Bandung spirit of decolonization as an embodiment of resistance and possibilities; 4. development and self-improvement of African political economy as entangled in the colonial matrix of power and the African Renaissance as weakened by undecolonized political and economic thought; and 5. knowledge, the role of African humanities in the struggle for epistemic freedom. This groundbreaking volume opens the intellectual canvas on the challenges and possibilities of African futures. It will be of great interest to students and scholars of Politics and International Relations, Development, Sociology, African Studies, Black Studies, Education, History, Postcolonial Studies and the emerging field of Decolonial Studies.

Eurocentrism Samir Amin, 2010-01-01 Since its first publication twenty years ago, Eurocentrism has become a classic of radical thought. Written by one of the world's foremost political economists, this original and provocative essay takes on one of the great ideological deformations of our time: Eurocentrism. Rejecting the dominant Eurocentric view of world history which narrowly and incorrectly posits a progression from the Greek and Roman classical world to Christian feudalism and the European capitalist system, Amin presents a sweeping reinterpretation that emphasizes the crucial historical role played by the Arab-Islamic world. Throughout the work, Amin addresses a broad set of concerns ranging from the ideological nature of scholastic metaphysics to the meanings and shortcomings of contemporary Islamic fundamentalism. This second edition contains a new introduction and concluding chapter, both of which make the author's arguments even more compelling.

Cultural Borders of Europe Mats

Andrén,Thomas Lindkvist,Ingmar Söhrman,Katharina Vajta,2017-08-01 The cultural borders of Europe are today more visible than ever and with them comes a sense of uncertainty with respect to liberal democratic traditions whether treated as abstractions or concrete realities cultural divisions challenge concepts of legitimacy and political representation as well as the legal bases for citizenship Thus an understanding of such borders and their consequences is of utmost importance for promoting the evolution of democracy Cultural Borders of Europe provides a wide ranging exploration of these lines of demarcation in a variety of regions and historical eras providing essential insights into the state of European intercultural relations today

Development Policy in Africa G. Kararach,2014-10-28 The author investigates the agenda for transformation in contemporary African development studies policy studies strategic studies international relations and economic diplomacy With a focus on the capacity dimension he proposes critical policy and action oriented recommendations on how to overcome present and future emergencies in Africa

Infrastructure in Africa Ncube, Mthuli,Leyeka Lufumpa, Charles,2017-03-31 This book presents a comprehensive exploration of the state of infrastructure in Africa and provides an integrated analysis of the challenges the sector faces based on extensive fieldwork across the continent providing an important resource for researchers students policymakers and NGOs

The Political Economy of Development Sadig Rasheed,Siyanbola Tomori,1996

Obsolescent Capitalism Samir Amin,2003-12 Samir Amin depicts a world in which NATO has taken over the role of the United Nations in which US hegemony is more or less complete in which millions are condemned to die in order to preserve the social order of the US Europe and Japan Amin s analyses of the Gulf War the wars in former Yugoslavia and the war in Central Asia reveal the scope of US strategic aims He argues that the political and military dimension of US dominance is as significant as US economic preponderance in determining the future of capitalist development

The Decolonization of Imagination Jan Nederveen Pieterse,Bhikhu C. Parekh,1995 The Decolonization of Imagination paves the way for a truly global cultural politics Acknowledging that both the West and the former colonized have been shaped by colonial imaginaries the book explores a wide range of cultural decolonization strategies A distinguished cast of contributors from both North and South looks at the relations between culture and power domination and the imagination in a variety of contexts This important contribution to post colonial theory will be essential reading for all students and academics in cultural studies literary studies political and social theory and development studies

A Prescience of African Cultural Studies Handel Kashope Wright,2004 In A Prescience of African Cultural Studies Handel Kashope Wright makes an argument for undertaking a necessary paradigm shift from literature studies in Africa to African Cultural Studies There are several major themes in this text in particular it rejects mainstream notions of literature as self deceptively apolitical and decidedly non utilitarian As an alternative Wright proposes African Cultural Studies as an African centered discourse and praxis that incorporates written oral and performance forms and overtly addresses political and sociocultural issues He articulates African Cultural Studies in relation to existing cultural studies its taken for granted British origin and genealogy and its global trajectories Finally Wright elaborates on African Cultural Studies by reconceptualizing drama emphasizing performance over written text incorporating film and electronic media and exploring the potential contribution African cultural studies could make to both the discourse and process of development in Africa

Southern Exposure Barbara P. Thomas-Slayter,2003 In this era of rapid globalization increasing poverty and inequality are creating fertile fields for anger despair and violence This introductory text addresses key political and economic challenges facing Southern countries as they engage with the global system Through the eyes of ordinary people in the Global South such as small farmers in Kenya and garment workers in Bangladesh Thomas Slayter identifies critical issues that will shape twenty first century development

Asia and Europe in Globalization Göran Therborn,Habibul Haque Khondker,2006 This interdisciplinary book by a group of Asian and European scholars provides a deeper understanding of globalization as an historical process with special attention to the regional and national contexts Globalization this book demonstrates has its roots in civilizational dialogues and interchanges
