Human Rights and Democratisation in Africa Simeon Onyewueke Eboh, 2003      Ibss: Political Science: 1994 British Library of Political and Economic Science at the London School of Economics, 1995-12-08 The IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences      Constitutional Change and Constitutionalism in Africa, 2025-05-16 The new generation of African constitutions crafted in the 1990s marked the beginning of a trend that promised a radical transformation of the continent's governance landscape This movement aimed to eliminate the risks of coups and political instability that had plagued Africa since the 1960s by embedding democracy and constitutionalism However the wave of constitutional reforms post 1990s seems to have sparked a contagious fever of making unmaking and remaking constitutions The nature and frequency of these changes threaten to undermine the progress made in entrenching a culture of constitutionalism good governance and respect for the rule of law It is therefore no surprise that there is almost universal agreement that Africa is now facing a profound crisis of democracy and constitutionalism Constitutional Change and Constitutionalism in Africa examines the nature and extent of these changes which have been occurring more frequently and sometimes more arbitrarily than anticipated Among the main questions investigated are the constitution making process and the roles of various internal actors such as the legislature executive and judiciary as well as external actors like the African Union and Regional Economic Communities in the different processes of constitutional change Ultimately the discussions aim to explore how the processes of constitutional change whether inevitable and unavoidable or contrived can be conducted in a manner that does not undermine or threaten the efforts to entrench democracy constitutionalism good governance and respect for the rule of law on the African continent      Democratisation of Myanmar Nehginpao Kipgen, 2021-09-30 On February 1 2021 Myanmar's military coup abruptly ended a decade of a civilian military hybrid regime a massive setback for the democratisation process Citizens from all walks of life took to the streets and protests erupted over the following weeks and Myanmar became the centre of global attention This book brings up to date how the story of Myanmar's experiment with democracy unravelled over the last few years This second edition Traces the political transition of Myanmar from a military rule of nearly five decades to a short lived democratic experiment Outlines the factors that contributed to this transition and the circumstances in which it took place Shows how political groups especially Aung San Suu Kyi's National League for Democracy NLD and the military worked together and paved the way for democratisation and what led to the failure of the NLD government Examines the 2020 general election and the declaration of national emergency following the NLD landslide electoral win Bringing together a balance of primary ethnographic fieldwork and nuanced analysis this book will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of Asian and Southeast Asian Studies politics and political processes democratisation process and democratic transitions international relations and peace and conflict studies especially those concerned with

Fombad, Nico Steytler, 2019-09-10 This collection of essays assesses the efforts of African governments to constitutionalise decentralisation be it in the form of federalism local government or traditional authorities Since the end of the Cold War jurisdictions across Africa have witnessed an ostensible return to multi party democracy within the paradigm of constitutionalism and the rule of law Linked to the democratisation process many countries took steps to decentralize power by departing from the heavily centralized systems inherited from colonial regimes The centralization of power typically characterized by the personalization and concentration of power in the hands of leaders and privileged elites in capital cities mostly resulted in repressive regimes and fragile states As decentralisation is a response to these challenges this volume analyses the dynamic relationship between the efforts to implement decentralization and presence or absence of constitutionalism This volume examines a variety of forms and degrees of decentralization found across Africa It advances a new understanding of trends and patterns and facilitates the exchange of ideas among African governments and scholars about the critical role that decentralisation may play in democratization of and constitutionalism in Africa      Democratisation Benjamin Obi Nwabueze, 1993
