Glover, Royce R. Ronning, 2013-11-11 This volume represents a beginning effort to compile a history of educational psychology The project began innocuously enough several years ago when we decided to add mon material about the history of educational psychology to the undergraduate course we were teaching What seemed like a simple task became very complex as we searched in vain for a volume dealing with the topic We ended up drawing on various histories of psychology that devoted anywhere from a few paragraphs to several pages to the topic and on a very few articles addressing the issue We were startled frankly by the apparent lack of interest in the history of our field and decided to attempt to compile a history ourselves As is the case with any edited volume the contributing authors deserve credit for its positive features They uniformly made every effort asked of them and taught us much about educational psychology Any errors or omissions are our responsibility alone □□□□□□□□□□, 1998 School Psychology Marvin J. Fine, 1989 This three part document contains several presentations and commentaries which represent further elaboration and clarification of the respective positions held by contributors to a 1988 American Psychological Association symposium on futures in school psychology Part I contains the following presentations 1 Conceptualizing the Future of School Psychology DeWayne Kurpius and M Scott 2 Instructional Consultation A Model for Providing Classroom Based Support Services Sylvia Rosenfield 3 Cognitive Behavioral School Psychology Current Issues and Future Directions Jan Hughes 4 Early Intervention Preschool Services and the Future of School Psychology Kathleen Paget and 5 Biological Bases of Behavior and School Psychology Riches or Ruin Cecil Reynolds Part II contains two commentaries on the foregoing chapters Futures in School Psychology Commentary George Hynd and Planning the Future of School Psychology Michael Curtis Part III What Can We Learn from Yertle the Turtle Marvin Fine is a critical summing up of foregoing presentations which includes both reiterations and some additional thoughts on the future of school psychology NB □□□□, 1998 The Handbook of School Psychology Cecil R. Reynolds, Terry B. Gutkin, 1999 As the standard reference in the field this edited handbook focuses on how a school psychologist can operate and create change within the educational system instead of focusing solely on the diagnosis and treatment of an individual Chapters have been updated and revised to provide a contemporary view of the field School Psychology Review, 2004 Historical Encyclopedia of School Psychology Thomas K.
