Dancing Identity Metaphysics In Motion:

Dancing Identity Sondra Horton Fraleigh, 2004-10-31 Combining critical analysis with personal history and poetry Dancing Identity presents a series of interconnected essays composed over a period of fifteen years Taken as a whole these meditative reflections on memory and on the ways we perceive and construct our lives represent Sondra Fraleigh's journey toward self definition as informed by art ritual feminism phenomenology poetry autobiography and always dance Fraleigh's brilliantly inventive fusions of philosophy and movement clarify often complex philosophical issues and apply them to dance history and aesthetics She illustrates her discussions with photographs dance descriptions and stories from her own past in order to bridge dance with everyday movement Seeking to recombine the fractured and bifurcated conceptions of the body and of the senses that dominate much Western discourse she reveals how metaphysical concepts are embodied and presented in dance both on stage and in therapeutic settings Examining the role of movement in personal and political experiences Fraleigh reflects on her major influences including Moshe Feldenkrais Kazuo Ohno and Twyla Tharp She draws on such varied sources as philosophers Simone de Beauvoir and Martin Heidegger the German expressionist dancer Mary Wigman Japanese Butoh founder Tatsumi Hijikata Hitler the Bomb Miss America Balanchine and the goddess figure of ancient cultures Dancing Identity offers new insights into modern life and its reconfigurations in postmodern dance Body and Mind in Motion Glenna Batson, Margaret Wilson, 2014-06-01 Western contemporary dance and body mind education have engaged in a pas de deux for more than four decades The rich interchange of somatics and dance has altered both fields but scholarship that substantiates these ideas through the findings of twentieth century scientific advances has been missing This book fills that gap and brings to light contemporary discoveries of neuroscience and somatic education as they relate to dance Drawing from the burgeoning field of embodiment itself an idea at the intersection of the sciences humanities arts and technologies Body and Mind in Motion highlights the relevance of somatic education within dance education dance science and body mind studies Contact Improvisation Cheryl Pallant, 2006-07-19 In most forms of dancing performers carry out their steps with a distance that keeps them from colliding with each other Dancer Steve Paxton in the 1970s considered this distance a territory for investigation His study of intentional contact resulted in a public performance in 1972 in a Soho gallery and the name contact improvisation was coined for the form of unrehearsed dance he introduced Rather than copyrighting it Paxton allowed it to evolve and spread In this book the author draws upon her own experience and research to explain the art of contact improvisation in which dance partners propel movement by physical contact They roll fall spiral leap and slip along the contours and momentum of moving bodies The text begins with a history then describes the elements that define this form of dance Subsequent chapters explore how contact improvisation relates to self and identity how class race gender culture and physiology influence dance how dance promotes connection in a culture of isolation and how it relates to the concept of community The final chapter is a collection of exercises explained in the words of teachers from across the United States and abroad Appendix A describes how to set up and maintain a weekly jam Appendix B details recommended reading videos and Web sites Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here

Dance and Gender Wendy Oliver, Doug Risner, 2018-06-11 Driven by exacting methods and hard data this volume reveals gender dynamics within the dance world in the twenty first century It provides concrete evidence about how gender impacts the daily lives of dancers choreographers directors educators and students through surveys interviews analyses of data from institutional sources and action research studies Dancers dance artists and dance scholars from the United States Australia and Canada discuss equity in three areas concert dance the studio and higher education The chapters provide evidence of bias stereotyping and other behaviors that are often invisible to those involved as well as to audiences The contributors answer incisive questions about the role of gender in various aspects of the field including physical expression and body image classroom experiences and pedagogy and performance and funding opportunities The findings reveal how inequitable practices combined with societal pressures can create environments that hinder health happiness and success At the same time they highlight the individuals working to eliminate discrimination and open up new possibilities for expression and achievement in studios choreography performance venues and institutions of higher education The dance community can strive to eliminate discrimination but first it must understand the status quo for gender in the dance world Wendy Oliver professor of dance at Providence College is coeditor of Jazz Dance A History of the Roots and Branches Doug Risner professor of dance at Wayne State University is coeditor of Hybrid Lives of Teaching Artists in Dance and Theatre Arts A Critical Reader Contributors Gareth Belling Karen Bond Carolyn Hebert Eliza Larson Pamela S Musil Wendy Oliver Katherine Polasek Doug Risner Emily Roper Karen Schupp Jan Van Dyke

Ethnographic Worldviews Robert E. Rinehart, Karen N. Barbour, Clive C. Pope, 2013-09-24 This book discusses ethnography from the three points of view of Emerging Methodologies Practice and Advocacy and Social Justice and Transformation with an over arching emphasis on researchers and participants worldviews While these three thematic threads cut across each other the actual chapters will be located so that the reader understand many of the current issues and concerns with specific exemplars from around the globe for ethnographers Ethnographic Worldviews Transformations and Social Justice will have its finger on the pulse of contemporary ethnography Chapters demonstrate up to the moment awareness of ethnographic methods concerns and subject matters within contemporary ethnographic writing Authors are deeply engaged in both their subject matter and their method For example discussion of ethical issues surrounding visual methods of collecting for photo ethnographies is anticipated as a potential hot topic for this book Unlike other ethnographic books which often suggest giving voice to others this book will actually give voice to a wide variety of perspectives from the points of view of researchers
