The author of the following discourses Lewis Cornaro was descended from one of the most illustrious families in Venice but by the ill conduct of some of his relations had the misfortune to be deprived of the dignity of a nobleman and excluded from all honours and public employments in the state Chagrined at this unmerited disgrace he retired to Padua and married a lady of the family of Spiltemberg whose name was Veronica Being in possession of a good estate he was very desirous of having children and after a long expectation of this happiness his wife was delivered of a daughter to whom he gave the name of Clara This was his only child who afterwards was married to John the son of Fantini Cornaro of a rich family in Cyprus while that island belonged to the republic of Venice Though he was far advanced in life when his daughter Clara came into the world yet he lived to see her very old and the mother of eight sons and three daughters He was a man of sound understanding determined courage and resolution In his younger days he had contracted infirmities by intemperance and by indulging his too great propensity to anger but when he perceived the ill consequence of his irregularities he had command enough of himself to subdue his passion and inordinate appetites By means of great sobriety and a strict regimen in his diet he recovered his health and vigour which he preserved to an extreme old age At a very advanced stage of life he wrote the following discourses wherein he acquaints us with the irregularity of his youth his reformation of manners and the hopes he entertained of living a long time Nor was he mistaken in his expectation for he resigned his last breath without any agony sitting in an elbow chair being above an hundred years old This happened at Padua the 26th of April 1566 His lady almost as old as himself survived him but a short time and died an early death They were both interred in St Anthony s church without pomp pursuant to their testamentary directions Discourses on a Sober and Temperate Life (Classic Reprint) Lewis Cornaro, 2015-08-04
