Discrete Statistical Models With Social Science Applications:

Discrete Statistical Models with Social Science Applications Erling B. Andersen, 1980 DHHS Publication No. (PHS). ,1989 Analysis and Modeling of Complex Data in Behavioral and Social Sciences Donatella Vicari, Akinori

Okada, Giancarlo Ragozini, Claus Weihs, 2014-07-05 This volume presents theoretical developments applications and computational methods for the analysis and modeling in behavioral and social sciences where data are usually complex to explore and investigate The challenging proposals provide a connection between statistical methodology and the social domain with particular attention to computational issues in order to effectively address complicated data analysis problems The papers in this volume stem from contributions initially presented at the joint international meeting JCS CLADAG held in Anacapri Italy where the Japanese Classification Society and the Classification and Data Analysis Group of the Italian Statistical Society had a stimulating scientific discussion and exchange Models, Measurement, and Metrology

Extending the SI William P. Fisher, Jr., Leslie Pendrill, 2024-09-23 The book focuses on the extension of quality assured measurement and metrology into psychological and social domains This is not only feasible and achievable but also a pressing concern Significant progress in developing a common conceptual system for measurement across the sciences has been made in recent collaborations between metrologists and psychometricians as reported in the chapters of this book Modeling estimation and interpretation of objectively reproducible unit quantities that support both general comparability and adaptation to unique local circumstances are demonstrated in fields as diverse as artificial intelligence justice and beauty perception New Developments in Quantitative Psychology Roger E. Millsap, L. Andries van der Ark, Daniel M.

Bolt, Carol M. Woods, 2014-02-04 The 77th Annual International Meeting of the Psychometric Society IMPS brought together quantitative researchers who focus on methods relevant to psychology The conference included workshops invited talks by well known scholars and presentations of submitted papers and posters It was hosted by the University of Nebraska Lincoln and took place between the 9th and 12th of July 2012 The chapters of this volume are based on presentations from the meeting and reflect the latest work in the field Topics with a primarily measurement focus include studies of item response theory computerized adaptive testing cognitive diagnostic modeling and psychological scaling Additional psychometric topics relate to structural equation modeling factor analysis causal modeling mediation missing data methods and longitudinal data analysis among others The papers in this volume will be especially useful for researchers graduate students and other quantitative researchers in the social sciences who use quantitative methods particularly psychologists Most readers will benefit from some prior knowledge of statistical methods in reading the chapters Problems and Methods in

Longitudinal Research David Magnusson, 1994-03-24 An analysis of data treatment methodology for longitudinal research studies Handbook of Multivariate Experimental Psychology John R. Nesselroade, Raymond B. Cattell, 2013-11-11

Individual Development and Social Change John R. Nesselroade,Alexander Von Eye,2013-09-24 Individual Development and Social Change Explanatory Analysis represents a convergence of three lines of emphasis now visible in developmental research and theory building The three are 1 the life course as a focus for the study of development and social change and their interrelationships 2 the life span orientation to the study of individual development with its acknowledgment of the salience of contextual features for understanding development and 3 the growth of methodological innovations that provide more appropriate and powerful ways of exploiting data gathered to describe and explain developmental change processes The book opens with a study on how major cultural change originates and unfolds over time This is followed by separate chapters on the use of sequential designs for explanatory analyses evolutionary aspects of social and individual development the concepts of the theory of causal and weak causal regressive dependence and the concepts of age period and cohort from the perspective of developmental psychology Subsequent chapters examine development and aging as lifelong processes of historical populations the methodological integration of natural and cultural science perspectives in developmental psychology and application of the multifaceted methodology to the mutuality of constraint between sociocultural group and individual dynamics
