Discussions And Arguments Birmingham Oratory Millennium Edition:

Newman and the Alexandrian Fathers Benjamin J. King, 2009-05-07 John Henry later Cardinal Newman is generally known to have been devoted to reading the Church Fathers In this volume Benjamin King draws on archive as well as published material to explore how Newman interpreted specific Fathers at different periods of his life King draws connections between the Alexandrian Fathers Newman was reading and the development of his thought This analysis shows that it was events in Newman s life that changed his interpretation of the Fathers not the interpretation of the Fathers that caused Newman to change his life King argues that Newman tailored his reading trying on the ideas of different Fathers to fit his own needs An innovative comparison of Newman s two translations of Athanasius of Alexandria from 1842-44 and 1881 demonstrates that by 1881 the Cardinal was swayed by the theology favored by Pope Leo XIII King reveals that although Newman was a controversial figure in his own day eventually his view of the Fathers and their doctrines came to be accepted by many scholars This new exploration of his work however shows that the Cardinal s interpretation of the Fathers should still be controversial today The Works of Cardinal John Henry Newman: Discussions and arguments on various subjects John Henry Newman, 2000 The Antagonist Principle Lawrence Poston, 2014-12-03 The Antagonist Principle is a critical examination of the works and sometimes controversial public career of John Henry Newman 1801-1890 first as an Anglican and then as Victorian England s most famous convert to Roman Catholicism at a time when such a conversion was not only a minority choice but in some quarters a deeply offensive one Lawrence Poston adopts the idea of personality as his theme not only in the modern sense of warring elements in one s own temperament and relationships with others but also in a theological sense as a central premise of orthodox Trinitarian Christian doctrine The principle of antagonism in the sense of opposition Poston argues activated Newman s imagination while simultaneously setting limits to his achievement both as a spiritual leader and as a writer The author draws on a wide variety of biographical historical literary and theological scholarship to provide an ethical reading of Newman s texts that seeks to offer a humane and complex portrait Neither a biography nor a revelation of a life this textual study of Newman s development as a theologian in his published works and private correspondence attempts to resituate him as one of the most combative of the Victorian seekers Though his spiritual quest took place on the far right of the religious spectrum in Victorian England it nonetheless allied him with a number of other prominent figures of his generation as distinct from each other as Thomas Carlyle John Stuart Mill and Walter Pater Avoiding both hagiography and iconoclasm Poston aims to see Newman whole First Things, 2004 Articulations Seamus Heaney, 2008 This limited numbered book was produced to mark the awarding of the 2008 Cunningham Medal of the Royal Irish Academy to Dr Seamus Heaney the recipient of the Nobel Prize in Literature 1995 Dr Seamus received the premier Cunningham Medal in recognition of his outstanding contribution to the scholarship and the objectives of the Royal Irish Academy Articulations contains Dr Heaney s speech from the award presentation following his acceptance of the medal which included a series of reflections on how the humanities inform consciousness and equip people as creatures of memory and reflection how they supply a basis for the location and different orientation of the self in the world The book also includes the Cunningham Medal citation by Jane Conroy a poem by Paul Muldoon commissioned in honor of Dr Heaney and the text of a discourse by Patrick Masterson

Lectures on the Present Position of Catholics in England John Henry Newman, 2000. The Lectures on the Present Position of Catholics in England is John Henry Newman's brilliant satirical attack on anti-Catholic prejudice and propaganda. The lectures appeared at a time of national uproar, the Papal Aggression crisis of 1850-51, and they landed Newman in court for libel. Aimed at a popular audience, they are supremely readable, at times shocking and certainly the most humorous of any of Newman's writings. Yet they are less well known today than his other works and until now have only been intermittently available. Newman himself thought they were his best written work and the leading Newman scholar, Ian Ker, has called them a neglected satirical masterpiece.

Discussions and Arguments on Various Subjects (Classic Reprint) John Henry Newman, 2015-07-11. Excerpt from Discussions and Arguments on Various Subjects. This Volume is a fresh contribution on the part of the Author towards a uniform Edition of his publications. Of the six portions of which it consists, the first appeared in the British Magazine in the spring of 1836 under the title of Home Thoughts Abroad. As that title was intended for a series of papers which were never written and is unsuitable to a single instalment of them, another heading has been selected for it, answering more exactly to the particular subject of which it treats. The second and third are the 83rd and 85th numbers of the Tracts for the Times and were published in the 5th volume in the year 1838. The fourth, The Tamworth Reading Room, was written for the Times newspaper and appeared in its columns in February 1841, being afterwards published as a pamphlet. The letters of which it consists were written off as they were successively called for by the parties who paid the author the compliment of employing him, and are necessarily immethodical as compositions.
