David Butler Interviewed By Irene Khan Atkins:

Five Directors Ira Skutch, 1998 Five Directors collects the fascinating memories of some of radio's most vivid personalities: Himan Brown, Axel Gruenberg, Fletcher Markle, Arch Oboler, and Robert Lewis Shayon. They explain in their own words their journey through radio broadcasting, how it affected their lives, and how they saw it affecting the consciousness of a country. Their histories are not just stories of success in early twentieth-century America, but individual portraits of the roller coaster changes in lifestyle that swept the United States. Radio delivered not only entertainment but up-to-date news from Charles Lindbergh's transatlantic triumph to Roosevelt's comforting Fireside Chats during the depths of the Depression. Five Directors is witness to the triumphs of radio and brings its enormous impact home with clear, personable narratives and prose. It includes a selected list of credits for each director and a handy index, making the book a breezy, useful tool for anyone fascinated by or nostalgic about America's first nationwide entertainment industry. Projecting Tomorrow

James Chapman, Nicholas J. Cull, 2013-01-30 Cinema and science fiction were made for each other. Science fiction has been at the cutting edge of film technology, and the genre has produced some of the most ambitious, imaginative, and visually spectacular films ever made. Yet science fiction cinema is about more than just state-of-the-art special effects. It has also provided a vehicle for film makers and writers to comment on their own societies and cultures. In this new study of the genre, James Chapman and Nicholas Cull examine a series of landmark science fiction films from the 1930s to the present. They include genre classics including Things to Come, Forbidden Planet, Planet of the Apes, and 2001: A Space Odyssey, alongside modern blockbusters Star Wars and Avatar. They consider both screen originals and adaptations of the work of major science fiction authors such as H.G. Wells and Arthur C. Clarke. They range widely across the genre, from pulp adventure and space opera to political allegory and speculative documentary; there is even a science fiction musical. Chapman and Cull explore the contexts and document the production histories of each film to show how they made their way to the screen and why they turned out the way they did. Informed throughout by extensive original research in US and British archives, Projecting Tomorrow will be essential reading for all students and fans of science fiction cinema. Down But Not Quite Out in Hollow-weird

Geoff Gehman, Eric Knight, 1998 Eric Knight, the internationally known film reviewer of the 1930s and author of Lassie Come Home, tells his story in his own words with the help of Geoff Gehman. Evelyn Brent Lynn Kear, James King, 2009-10-21 Evelyn Brent's life and career were going quite well in 1928. She was happily living with writer Dorothy Herzog following her divorce from producer Bernard Fineman, and the tiny brunette had wowed fans and critics in the silent films The Underworld and The Last Command. She'd also been a sensation in Paramount's first dialogue film Interference. But by the end of that year, Brent was headed for a quick downward spiral, ending in bankruptcy and occasional work as an extra. What happened is a complicated story, laced with bad luck, poor decisions, and treachery, detailed in this first and only full-length biography. Ray Bolger Holly Van Leuven, 2019-02-01 Best remembered for his role as the Scarecrow in the 1939

MGM musical The Wizard of Oz Ray Bolger led a rich and extraordinary career in the decade before and more than four decades after the creation of the film Ray Bolger More Than a Scarecrow is the first biography of this classic American entertainer covering the luminous and forgotten career of the eccentric dancer outside of his burlap mask The product of a fragmented working class Boston Irish family Bolger learned tap and eccentric dance steps as solace for a difficult life before running away to repertory theater and Vaudeville From there he would go on to become a Broadway star a contract player at Hollywood's major studios one of the first performers to tour the South Pacific for the USO a Tony Award winner an early sitcom star and the opening headliner of the Sahara Hotel in Las Vegas Using unprecedented access to Bolger's papers and many never before published photographs Ray Bolger More Than a Scarecrow pieces together the lost story of an itinerant hoofer who survived and thrived during the major media changes of the twentieth century and established himself as a staple of American pop culture
