David Nixon's magic box D. Nixon, 1978      David Nixon's Magic Box David Nixon, 1973      Secular Magic and the Moving Image Max Sexton, 2017-12-14 The power of the moving image to conjure marvelous worlds has usually been to understand it in terms of move magic On film a fascination for enchantment and wonder has transmuted older beliefs in the supernatural into secular attractions But this study is not about the history of special effects or a history of magic Rather it attempts to determine the influence and status of secular magic on television within complex modes of delivery before discovering interstices with film Historically the overriding concern on television has been for secular magic that informs and empowers rather than a fairytale effect that deceives and mystifies Yet shifting notions of the real and the uncertainty associated with the contemporary world has led to television developing many different modes that have become capable of constant hybridization The dynamic interplay between certainty and indeterminacy is the key to understanding secular magic on television and film and exploring the interstices between them Sexton ranges from the real time magic of street performers such as David Blaine Criss Angel and Dynamo to Penn and Teller's comedy magic to the hypnotic acts of Derren Brown before finally visiting the 2006 films The Illusionist and The Prestige Each example charts how the lack of clear distinctions between reality and illusion in modes of representation and presentation disrupt older theoretical oppositions Secular Magic and the Moving Image not only re evaluates questions about modes and styles but raises further questions about entertainment and how the relations between the program maker and the audience resemble those between the conjuror and spectator By re thinking these overlapping practices and tensions and the marking of the indeterminacy of reality on media screens it becomes possible to revise our understanding of inter medial relations      The Trials and Triumphs of Les Dawson Louis Barfe, 2012-02-22 STRONG The first ever narrative biography of a towering figure in British comedy Les Dawson more than any other comedian spoke for the phlegmatic pessimistic British way of life A Northern lad who climbed out of the slums thanks to an uncommonly brilliant mind he was always the underdog but his bark was funnier and more incisive than many comics who claimed to bite Married twice in real life he had a third wife in his comic world a fictional ogre built from spare parts left by fleeing Nazis at the end of World War II and an equally frightening mother in law He was down to earth yet given to eloquent absurd flights of fancy He was endlessly generous with his time but slow to buy a round of drinks He was a mass of contradictions In short he was human he was genuine and that's why audiences loved him This is his story      ThirdWay, 2007-12 Monthly current affairs magazine from a Christian perspective with a focus on politics society economics and culture      Television's Greatest Hits Paul Gambaccini, Rod Taylor, 1993      Hammer Complete Howard Maxford, 2018-12-31 Think you know everything there is to know about Hammer Films the fabled Studio that Dripped Blood The lowdown on all the imperishable classics of horror like The Curse of Frankenstein Horror of Dracula and The Devil Rides Out What about the company's less blood curdling back catalog What about the musicals comedies and
