

In this companion volume to his successful Familtaremoking Techniques, David Charlesworth takes a fresh look at a range of inspiring projects and expert techniques originally presented in Furniture & Cobinetmoking magazine. His own highly regarded work is featured, as are pieces produced by several of his talented students.

As ever, David's approach is a holistic one a combination of the analytical, practical and innovative. He challenges the beginner, more experienced woodworker and expert craftsperson alike, to employ the same meticulous approach to their designs to produce exhibition-quality results.

Fine cabinet-making is a fascinating and challenging discipline and – as David believes – there is always more to be learned. This second authoritative volume, then, is certain to be an invaluable addition to the workshop.
