David Maloufs Fly Away Peter:

Fly Away Peter David Malouf, 1983 The simple lives of three people on the Queensland coast in 1914 are altered irretrievably by the horror of World War One Fly Away Peter by David Malouf [videorecording], 1989 Fly Away Peter by David Malouf Lee Forster, Notes on David Malouf's Fly Away Peter College of Careers (Cape Town, South Africa), 1987

The Pain of Unbelonging Sheila Collingwood-Whittick, 2007 Beyond the obvious and enduring socio economic ravages it unleashed on indigenous cultures white settler colonization in Australasia also inflicted profound damage on the collective psyche of both of the communities that inhabited the contested space of the colonial world The acute sense of alienation that colonization initially provoked in the colonized and colonizing populations of Australia and New Zealand has recent studies indicate developed into an endemic existential pathology Evidence of the psychological fallout from the trauma of geographical deracination cultural disorientation and ontological destabilization can be found not only in the state of anomie and self destructive patterns of behaviour that now characterize the lives of indigenous Australian and Maori peoples but also in the perpetually faltering identity discourse and cultural rootlessness of the present descendants of the countries Anglo Celtic settlers It is with the literary expression of this persistent condition of alienation that the essays gathered in the present volume are concerned Covering a heterogeneous selection of contemporary Australasian literature what these critical studies convincingly demonstrate is that more than two hundred years after the process of colonisation was set in motion the experience that Germaine Greer has dubbed the pain of unbelonging continues unabated constituting a dominant thematic concern in the writing produced today by Australian and New Zealand authors Fly Away Peter Brian Norton, 1999 Texts and Their Worlds Ii K. Narayana Chandran, Missions of Interdependence, 2021-11-01 At the beginning of the twenty first century it is necessary to combine into a productive programme the striving for individual emancipation and the social practice of humanism in order to help the world survive both the ancient pitfalls of particularist terrorism and the levelling tendencies of cultural indifference engendered by the renewed imperialist arrogance of hegemonial global capital In this book thirty five scholars address and negotiate in a spirit of learning and understanding an exemplary variety of intercultural splits and fissures that have opened up in the English speaking world Their methodology can be seen to constitute a seminal field of intellectual signposts They point out ways and means of responsibly assessing colonial predicaments and postcolonial developments in six regions shaped in the past by the British Empire and still associated today through their allegiance to the idea of a Commonwealth of Nations They show how a new ethic of literary self assertion interpretative mediation and critical responsiveness can remove the deeply ingrained prejudices silences and taboos established by discrimination against race class and gender Fly Away Peter by David Malouf, Translated Into Chinese by Ouyang Yu Yu Ouyang, 1994 Imagining Ithaca Kathleen Riley, 2021-04-01 Though home is a name a word it is a strong one said Charles Dickens stronger than magician ever spoke or spirit answered to in strongest conjuration The ancient Greek word nostos meaning homecoming or return has a commensurate power and mystique Irish philosopher poet John Moriarty described it as a teeming word a haunted word a word to conjure with The most celebrated and culturally enduring nostos is that of Homer's Odysseus who spent ten years returning home after the fall of Troy His journey back involved many obstacles temptations and fantastical adventures and even a katabasis a rare descent by the living into the realm of the dead All the while he was sustained and propelled by his memories of Ithaca His native home deep imaged in his soul as Pope's translation has it From Virgil's Aeneid to James Joyce's Ulysses from MGM's The Wizard of Oz to the Coen Brothers O Brother Where Art Thou and from Derek Walcott's Omeros to Margaret Atwood's Penelopiad the Odyssean paradigm of nostos and nostalgia has been continually summoned and reimagined by writers and filmmakers At the same time Ithaca has proved to be an evocative and versatile abstraction It is as much about possibility as it is about the past it is a vision of Arcadia or a haunting an object of longing a repository of memory a sleep and a forgetting In essence it is about seeking what is absent Imagining Ithaca explores the idea of nostos and its attendant pain algos in an excitingly eclectic range of sources from Rebecca West's The Return of the Soldier and Remarque's All Quiet on the Western Front through the exilic memoirs of Nabokov and the time travelling fantasies of Woody Allen to Seamus Heaney's Virgilian descent into the London Underground and Michael Portillo's Telemachan railway journey to Salamanca This kaleidoscopic exploration spans the end of the Great War when the world at large was experiencing the complexities of homecoming to the era of Brexit and COVID 19 which has put the notion of nostalgia firmly under the microscope
