Rethinking Work Rishad Tobaccowala,2025-02-04 A sea change is occurring a change so monumental that it is making us reinvent the traditional ideas of where work is done when work is done why work is done and even what work itself is We have a choice We can either be reactive and struggle to adjust to transformational events on the fly or we can be proactive and control the narrative reinventing work to align with the evolving environment Futurist Rishad Tobaccowala has had a highly successful career because he has anticipated and capitalized on emerging trends In Rethinking Work Rishad outlines the reasons why being proactive in this era of unprecedented change is the only way organizations will survive and thrive Schools banks law firms startups medical offices every sector will be affected by the current or soon to be emerging trends and events that Rishad describes in this invaluable guide Learn to thrive in a world where the who what why where when and how of work will be transformed Who will people work for A growing number of people are choosing to work for themselves while others are opting for greater control over who they work for This will lead to more options both for employees and employers on how to structure their work What will organizations look like Like nothing in the past We will no longer have a single organizational model or design but instead have a wide range of operating styles structures and sizes Why will people work Two thirds of workers under 30 are combining different gigs to not only satisfy their financial needs but to their own personal satisfaction and sense of purpose Where will people work In the metaverse At home In morphing offices that bear little resemblance to traditional workspaces With team members in other countries and customers on other continents When will people work Whenever The 9 5 workday is already passing as efficiency lessens in importance to innovation disruption and agility How will leadership change We are evolving to a new type of leadership from management focused to growth agility and learning focused

Learning for Uncertainty G. Williamson McDiarmid,Yong Zhao,2022-01-31 Learning for Uncertainty explores technology s role in education specifically unpacking the question How should educators prepare today s children for a world that has yet to be made As technology evolves faster than our capacity to fully understand the social cultural economic and moral implications of many innovations today s educators are tasked with the unique role of preparing students to capitalize on technology's opportunities and also mitigate its dangers to their society to democratic processes and to institutions. Veteran educators McDiarmid and Zhao explore the implications of emerging technologies for future jobs organizations, students and learning, covering topics such as The future of work and workers as technology eliminates some industries while creating new ones. Potential futures both bright and dark await students. The qualities, dispositions, social behaviors and skills that are likely to advantage students in the future. The possibility of technology to revolutionize education in ways that will better position students for an uncertain future. How technology can free teachers from time and effort devoted to routine matters to instead assuming roles that are potentially more satisfying and supportive of their students' learning. Learning opportunities and educator roles that have the potential to bring about needed changes. Capitalizing on these uncertain times to rethink curriculum, pedagogy, opportunities to learn and the organization of school as well as the roles of students, educators, parents and policymakers. This latest book in the Routledge Leading Change series is ideal reading for educators and policymakers in both P-12 and higher education interested in ensuring our education systems provide the experiences and learning opportunities necessary to cultivate the innovative, iconoclastic and generative thinkers and creators needed for a future that nourishes the minds, bodies and spirits of all.
