Shakespeare s Kitchen not only reveals sometimes surprisingly what people were eating in Shakespeare s time but also provides recipes that today s cooks can easily re create with readily available ingredients from the Foreword by Patrick O Connell Francine Segan introduces contemporary cooks to the foods of William Shakespeare s world with recipes updated from classic sixteenth and seventeenth century cookbooks Her easy to prepare adaptations shatter the myth that the Bard s primary fare was boiled mutton In fact Shakespeare and his contemporaries dined on salads of fresh herbs and vegetables fish fowl and meats of all kinds and delicate broths Dried Plums with Wine and Ginger Zest Crostini Winter Salad with Raisin and Caper Vinaigrette and Lobster with Pistachio Stuffing and Seville Orange Butter are just a few of the delicious aromatic and gorgeous dishes that will surprise and delight. Segan's delicate and careful renditions of these recipes have been thoroughly tested to ensure no fail standout results. The tantalizing Renaissance recipes in Shakespeare's Kitchen are enhanced with food related quotes from the Bard, delightful morsels of culinary history, interesting facts on the customs and social etiquette of Shakespeare's time, and the texts of the original recipes complete with antiquated spellings and eccentric directions. Patrick O'Connell provides an enticing Foreword to this edible history from which food lovers and Shakespeare enthusiasts alike will derive nourishment. Want something new for dinner? Try something four hundred years old. NOTE: This edition does not include photos.

One Hearth, One Pot Clarissa Clifton, 2011-03-08 Have you ever wondered how slaves or dirt farmers were able to cook meals on the hearth with just one pot? This is a cookbook that focuses on recipes that require only one cast iron Dutch oven for cooking. I have seen how magical the hearth can be when a pot is hanging over the fire and the wonderful smells send out a silent call for complete strangers to gather around it. One Hearth One Pot: For Love of Food and History is a collection of recipes that I have cooked while giving food history demonstrations. I am a cook, not a professional chef, meaning that each recipe is flexible depending on my budget and pantry. So feel free to put your own stamp of history on each recipe. For those who are interested in food history, I hope it will encourage you to volunteer at a living history museum. You will be amazed at how many people walk up to the hearth as strangers and leave as friends just because of one little pot bubbling on the hearth.

Finding Fire Lennox Hastie, 2020-11-30 Finding Fire is a book about cooking with fire. Now with a new cover, it tells the story of how the UK trained chef Lennox Hastie learnt the language of fire and the art of harnessing it. The book presents more than 80 recipes that celebrate the instinctive, focused cooking of ingredients at their simplest, best, using one of the oldest, most fundamental cooking tools. In Finding Fire, Lennox explains the techniques behind creating a quality fire and encourages readers to see wood as an essential seasoning that can be varied according to how it interacts with different ingredients. Recipes are divided by food type: seafood, vegetables, meat, including his acclaimed steak, fruit, dairy, wheat, and bases. Alongside his recipes, Lennox tells of his journey from Michelin star restaurants in the UK, France, and Spain to Victor Arguinzoniz's Asador Etxebarri in the Basque mountains, and ultimately to Australia to open his own restaurant, Firedoor. The result is an uncompromising historical, cultural, and culinary account of what it means to cook with fire. In 2020, Lennox's story was featured on the critically acclaimed Netflix series Chef's Table in season seven. BBQ. As well, he stars in David Chang's Ugly Delicious season two episode on steak.
