Coordinates Of Anglo American Romanticism Wesley Edwards Caryle Emerson:

Coordinates of Anglo-American Romanticism Richard E. Brantley, 1993 Constructing a transatlantic arc of literature Brantley explores how John Wesley and Jonathan Edwards provide an empirical as well as evangelical framework for interpreting their spiritual descendants Thomas Carlyle and Ralph Waldo Emerson He finds that the four Anglo American writers share a simultaneously rational and sensational reliance on experience as the avenue to knowledge Experience and Faith R. Brantley, 2016-04-30 Emily Dickinson 1830 86 recasts British Romantic themes of natural and spiritual perception for an American audience Her poems of science and technology reflect her faith in experience Her lyrics about natural history build on this empiricism and develop her commitment to natural religion Her poems of revealed religion constitute her experience of faith Thus Dickinson stands on the experiential common ground between empiricism and evangelicalism in Romantic Anglo America Her double perspective parallels the implicit androgyny of her nineteenth century feminism Her counterintuitive combination of natural models with spiritual metaphors champions immortality The experience faith dialectic of her Late Romantic imagination forms the heart of her legacy Carlyle Studies Annual , 2009

Emerson, Romanticism, and Intuitive Reason Patrick J. comprehensive bibliography includes all secondary material on Byron in English from the popular to the scholarly for the years 1973 to 1994 Teaching the Transatlantic Eighteenth Century Jennifer Frangos, Cristobal Silva, 2010 The central axiom of Teaching the Transatlantic Eighteenth Century is that the classroom functions as a site for research and collaboration not only as a space that reflects the research of individual teacher scholars but as a generative site to put ideas theories and methodologies into play Whereas transatlanticism has transformed research practices over the last decade the present collection is concerned with exploring what this transformation looks like in the classroom and how the classroom continues to shape research practices in the field Contributors address issues such as how the traffic in ideas people and commodities between Europe Africa and the New World are considered in classroom settings how inter and intra departmental collaborations reshape our approaches to teaching the eighteenth century how and why Transatlantic Studies can function as an introduction to college study and how it can help more advanced students to revise their notions of nation place and identity By now there are a number of anthologies available to help instructors determine what transatlantic material to teach but none that engage why and how to teach it or what teaching it can do for us our students and our profession Rather than simply providing reading lists or a collection of anecdotes about lesson plans Teaching the Transatlantic Eighteenth Century emphasizes theorizing critical engagements with interdisciplinary focus on and the transformative potential of Transatlantic Studies The primary market for Teaching the Transatlantic Eighteenth Century is university college and community college professors researchers and students with three specific subgroups 1 Teachers new to Transatlantic Studies Teachers coming to Transatlantic Studies for the first time will find both suggestions for materials or topical units to be integrated into existing courses e g a unit on transatlantic exchange that could figure in an eighteenth century literature survey course and ideas for developing new courses altogether 2 Teachers already teaching and or researching in the field of Transatlantic Studies Such scholars will find material to broaden their approach to familiar courses and subjects inter or cross disciplinary focus new texts successful clusterings of texts or themes or approaches and ideas for team teaching or linking courses with other faculty 3 Teachers involved in Transatlantic Studies programs especially those that focus on contemporary Post WWII context e g at the University of Dundee the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill and the University of Birmingham Teaching the Transatlantic Eighteenth Century will provide historical context for current geopolitical studies perspective on the dynamics and historical and political forces occurring in the eighteenth century and contributing to 19th 20th and 21st century politics nations and paradigms Fides Et Historia ,1993 Christianity & Literature ,1999 Index to Book Reviews in Religion ,1998 Emily Dickinson's Experiential Poetics and Rev.
