Dynamic Testing The Nature And Measurement Of Learning Potential:

Dynamic Testing Robert J. Sternberg, Elena L. Grigorenko, 2002 The goal of this book is to present and evaluate the concept of dynamic testing Unlike static tests such as the SAT or IQ tests dynamic testing emphasizes learning potential rather than past learning accomplishments The book opens with a theoretical framework of abilities as forms of developing expertise It then continues with an introduction to dynamic testing and then a capsule history of dynamic testing The book also reviews the approaches of Feuerstein and Budoff and other diverse approaches to dynamic testing The Drs Sternberg and Grigorenko present their own three prong approach to dynamic testing along with two case studies using dynamic testing in their own research The authors conclude that dynamic testing has enormous potential which has not yet been tapped

Dynamic Testing Robert J. Sternberg, Elena L. Grigorenko, 2001-10-29 The goal of this book is to present and evaluate the concept of dynamic testing Unlike static tests such as the SAT or IQ tests it emphasizes learning potential rather than past learning accomplishments This book is unique in its wide ranging review of virtually all approaches to dynamic testing It also suggests alternatives to the typical kinds of tests given in the United States tests that often seem to stifle rather than encourage the development of human potential

Self-directed Learning Oriented Assessments in the Asia-Pacific Magdalena Mo Ching Mok, 2012-10-08 The Asia Pacific region needs to maximize the benefits of education to enable it to compete in an economic future dominated by innovation in which assessing student progress must be an empowering rather than delimiting factor This detailed exposition of the theoretical basis and application tools of self directed learning oriented assessment SLOA reflects the very latest research championed by the Assessment Research Centre at The Hong Kong Institute of Education Featuring a range of relevant case studies it explores the varied theoretical issues related to SLOA and offers an integrated view of the system fully in line with the constructivist paradigm of learning which advocates formative rather than summative assessment Many of the initiatives outlined here are firsts in the region SLOA is already being applied in many schools with links to the ARC It is an approach to assessment that acknowledges the centrality of self directed learning and which positions assessment as a tool to enable and enhance self directed learning It draws on several theories of learning and assessment including the constructivist notion that learning is best achieved when students take ownership of their educational process setting their own goals and monitoring their own progress towards those goals SLOA has been the research and service approach of the ARC since 2005 In the intervening years the centre has developed a number of tools to facilitate SLOA learning and assessment including vertical ability scales teacher friendly computer software and packages for self directed learning

Mediated Learning and Cognitive Modifiability David Tzuriel, 2021-09-07 This book portrays an extensive and intensive discussion of theories and research that refer to Vygotsky's and Feuerstein's theories of mediated learning and their effects on learning potential and cognitive modifiability Most topics are discussed in relation to a broad spectrum of developmental and cognitive research that are under the conceptual umbrella of mediated learning and cognitive modifiability Some topics such as neural plasticity executive functions mental rotation and cognitive education are related to mediated learning though indirectly and therefore are included in this book In many ways the book presents an extension of Vygotsky and Feuerstein s theories and empirical validation in a variety of family social and cultural contexts The book includes a thorough analysis and summary of 50 years of research and methodology of the intimate relation between mediated learning interactions and cognitive modifiability and of dynamic assessment underlying measurement of cognitive modifiability Special emphasis is given to Tzuriel s dynamic assessment instruments developed during more than four decades Tzuriel s novel instruments are interwoven in the extensive research on parent child interactions siblings teachers and peers mediation and in validation of dynamic assessment approach and cognitive education programs aimed at development of thinking skills and academic achievements

Psychological Assessment in South Africa
Sumaya Laher,Kate Cockcroft,2013-01-01 This book provides an overview of the research related to psychological assessment across South Africa The thirty six chapters provide a combination of psychometric theory and practical assessment applications in order to combine the currently disparate research that has been conducted locally in this field Existing South African texts on psychological assessment are predominantly academic textbooks that explain psychometric theory and provide brief descriptions of a few testing instruments Psychological Assessment in South Africa provides in depth coverage of a range of areas within the broad field of psychological assessment including research conducted with various psychological instruments The chapters critically interrogate the current Eurocentric and Western cultural hegemonic practices that dominate the field of psychological assessment The book therefore has the potential to function both as an academic text for graduate students as well as a specialist resource for professionals including psychologists psychometrists remedial teachers and human resource practitioners

Evaluation and Testing Pon Cuppaiyā,2010 Sociocultural Theory and the Teaching of Second Languages James P. Lantolf,Matthew E. Poehner,2008-07 The fourteen original chapters included in the present volume document innovations in second and foreign language teaching that are rooted in Vygotsky's theory of cognitive development Researchers and language teaching practitioners will find implementations at the classroom and programmatic levels of Vygotskian principles and concepts

Journal of Psychology in Africa ,2010 Sociocultural Theory and the Genesis of Second Language Development James Lantolf,Steven L. Thorne,2006-03-02 Integrates theory research and practice on the learning of second and foreign languages as informed by sociocultural and activity theory It familiarizes students teachers and other researchers who do not work within the theory with its principal claims and constructs in particular as they relate to second language research The book also describes and illustrates the use of activity theory to support practical and conceptual innovations in second language education

Primate Perspectives on Behavior and Cognition David A. Washburn,Duane M. Rumbaugh,2007 Experts with a diverse range of perspectives explore the contributions made to the study of primate cognition and behavior and provide guideposts for new generations of researchers studying behavior as manifested across primate species The contributors first explore commonly used research methodology and then look at the groundbreaking content of recent research

Annual Meeting Program American Educational Research Association,2002 Encyclopedia of the Sciences of Learning Norbert M. Seel,2011-10-05 Over the past century educational psychologists and researchers have posited many theories to explain how individuals learn i e how they acquire organize and deploy knowledge and skills The 20th century can be considered the century of psychology on learning and related fields of interest such as motivation cognition metacognition etc and it is fascinating to see the various mainstreams of learning remembered and forgotten over the 20th century and note that basic assumptions of early theories survived several paradigm shifts of psychology and epistemology Beyond folk psychology and its naive theories of learning psychological learning theories can be grouped into some basic categories such as behaviorist learning theories connectionist learning theories cognitive learning theories constructivist learning theories and social learning theories Learning theories are not limited to psychology and related fields of interest but rather we can find the topic of learning in various disciplines such as philosophy and epistemology education information science biology and as a result of the emergence of computer technologies especially also in the field of computer sciences and artificial intelligence As a consequence machine learning struck a chord in the 1980s and became an important field of the learning sciences in general

As the learning sciences became more specialized and complex the various fields of interest were widely spread and separated from each other as a consequence even presently there is no comprehensive overview of the sciences of learning or the central theoretical concepts and vocabulary on which researchers rely The Encyclopedia of the Sciences of Learning provides an up to date broad and authoritative coverage of the specific terms mostly used in the sciences of learning and its related fields including relevant areas of instruction pedagogy cognitive sciences and especially machine learning and knowledge engineering This modern compendium will be an indispensable source of information for scientists educators engineers and technical staff active in all fields of learning More specifically the Encyclopedia provides fast access to the most relevant theoretical terms provides up to date broad and authoritative coverage of the most important theories within the various fields of the learning sciences and adjacent sciences and communication technologies supplies clear and precise explanations of the theoretical terms cross references to related entries and up to date references to important research and publications The Encyclopedia also contains biographical entries of individuals who have substantially contributed to the sciences of learning the entries are written by a distinguished panel of researchers in the various fields of the learning sciences
