Pourciau,2017-05-01 Contemporary thought has been profoundly shaped by the early twentieth century turn toward synchronic models of explanation which analyze phenomena as they appear at a single moment rather than diachronically as they develop through time But the relationship between time and system remains unexplained by the standard account of this shift Through a new history of systematic thinking across the humanities and sciences The Writing of Spirit argues that nineteenth century historicism wasn't simply replaced by a more modern synchronic perspective The structuralist revolution consisted rather in a turn toward time's absolutely minimal conditions and thus also toward a new theory of diachrony Pourciau arrives at this surprising and powerful conclusion through an analysis of language scientific theories over the course of two centuries associated with thinkers from Jacob Grimm and Richard Wagner to the Russian Futurists in domains as disparate as historical linguistics phonology acoustics opera theory philosophy poetics and psychology The result is a novel contribution to a pressing contemporary question namely what role history should play in the interpretation of the present The Antiquity of Hebrew Writing and Literature Alvin Sylvester Zerbe,1911 Psychology and Pedagogy of Writing Mary Elizabeth Thompson,1911 The Musical Herald ,1907 Journal of the American Society of Naval Engineers ,1918 A New English Dictionary on Historical Principles James Augustus Henry Murray,Sir William Alexander Craigie,Charles Talbut Onions,1909 Courses and Degrees Stanford University,1990
