

Lab Safety Guidelines

Before you attend labs this coming week, please read this entire document carefully and watch the embedded videos. It is our responsibility to protect ourselves and each other in class. You will have an online quiz on this that you need to complete before coming to lab on Monday AM, so plan accordingly. I will not let you into lab if you have not signed off on reading this document and taken the quiz.

Face Mask

Put on face mask before coming onto campus near crowds of students, or before entry into any indoor area including bathrooms and study areas. Ideally you should wash your hands before putting on your mask.

1. How to choose a mask:
  - Correct and snugly Facial mask use
  - Use a N95 mask if possible (choose reliable mask; see list of tested by CDC) and put surgical mask over N95. N95=filters out 95% of airborne particles.
  - Double mask when using surgical masks
  - When using fabric masks be sure they are triple layered and combine with surgical (surgical bottom + fabric top)
  - Choose a mask with a nose wire
  - Bandana, neck gaiter, and valve masks are not acceptable
  - Be aware of beards that prevent mask from forming a tight seal around face. You can still spread virus particles if mask is not worn correctly. Masks designed for people with beards are being evaluated, and information will be provided when it becomes available. [\[As per CDC\]](#)
2. How to put on a mask correctly:
How to use masks properly including seal check.
3. How to don and doff PPE (dress and remove personal protective equipment) correctly per Centers for Disease Control (CDC):
How to use PPE correctly by CDC

Laboratory Procedure for The Semester

1. Complete the Wellness Survey for COVID 19 Screening and if you are safe attend lab.
2. When entering lab and when lab is over do not rush through all of these steps. Mistakes happen when you are in a hurry.
3. Put on face mask and double layer before entering lab and put phone away. No eating or drinking in lab.
