Canada And The Reagan Challenge Crisis And Adjustment 198185:

Canada and the Reagan Challenge Stephen Clarkson, 1985 Canada and Reagan Challenge first published in 1982 has gained wide acclaim for its analysis of the crisis of 1981 when Ottawa and Washington went head to head over the economic nationalism of the National Energy Program and the Foreign Investment Review Agency Stephen Clarkson's study demonstrated that the crisis extended to a great many fronts including defence the environment and the survival of Canadian culture The September 1984 election brought to Ottawa a new Conservative government one that seemed determined to embrace Ronald Reagan's view of the world The Conservatives soon came on side with Washington on the Stars Wars debate As for foreign investment the Tories declared Canada open for business With many challenges for the bilateral relationship on the horizon further protectionist threats free trade negotiations the modernization of NORAD the acid rain crisis and American withdrawal from international institutions such as UNESCO Stephen Clarkson asks whether the Conservatives super relations with the United States will result in the sacrifice of Canadian interests

Christian Ethics and Political Economy in North America Peter Travis Kroeker, 1995 In this religious and moral critique of liberalism Travis Kroeker analyses how religious ethical discourse is changed when it is translated into the economic policy discourse of North American liberalism Focusing on influential representatives of contemporary Canada Among Nations, 2008 Robert Bothwell, Jean Daudelin, Norman Paterson School of International Affairs, 2009 This year's edition of Canada Among Nations offers a critical overview of a number of landmarks in the last hundred years of Canadian foreign policy The editors take a critical look at the now almost mainstream declinist thesis and at the continued relevance of Canada's relationships with its principal allies the United Kingdom France and the United States Contributors discuss a broad range of themes including the weight of a changing identity in the evolution of the country's foreign policy the fate of Canadian diplomacy as a profession the often complicated relationship between foreign and trade policies the impact of immigration and refugee procedures on foreign policy and the evolving understanding of development and defence as components of Canada's foreign policy Uncle Sam and Us Stephen Clarkson, 2002-01-01 Analyzing the Mulroney Chr tian era's impact on Canadian governance through globalization from without and neoconservatism from within Clarkson brings together a comprehensive understanding of the current Canadian political climate

Canada First, Not Canada Alone Adam Chapnick, Professor of Defence Studies Adam Chapnick, Asa McKercher, Assistant Professor of History Asa McKercher, 2024 The definitive history of Canadian foreign policy since the 1930s Canada First Not Canada Alone examines how successive prime ministers have promoted Canada's national interests in a world that has grown increasingly complex and interconnected Case studies focused on environmental reform Indigenous peoples trade hostage diplomacy and wartime strategy illustrate the breadth of issues that shape Canada's global realm Drawing from extensive primary and secondary research Adam Chapnick and Asa McKercher offer a fresh take on how Canada positions itself in the world Canada Among Nations 1985 Tomlin, Brian, Appel Molot,

Maureen, 1986-01-01 The 1985 edition of Canada Among Nations examines the reshaping of Canadian foreign policy that characterized the Mulroney Conservative government's first full year in power. Initially the new government's handling of foreign policy was marred by indecision and internal tension. By the end of 1985 however Prime Minister Brian Mulroney's ad hoc interventions on foreign affairs had ceased and the move to a more formal decision making process accompanied a rise in the influence of External Affairs Minister Joe Clark. This edition of Canada Among Nations analyses the Mulroney government's agenda setting experience from a range of perspectives: international security, the economy, relations with the Third World and the federal policy making process. Policy Studies in Canada Laurent Dobuzinskis, Michael Howlett, David H. Laycock, 1996 Twenty one Canadian political scientists examine policy studies in the country from the beginnings of the field to speculations on future directions in research. The discussions describe influences and theoretical departures based on work investigating government public administration and political economy describing the penetration of policy analysis into government and non government organizations. Besides this historical overview the volume also outlines the principal elements of four major methodological approaches used in contemporary Canadian policy studies illustrating strengths and weaknesses in regards to Canadian policy.
