China's Naval Power Yves-Heng Lim, 2016-05-23 The rapid modernization of the Chinese Navy is a well documented reality of the post Cold War world In two decades the People s Liberation Army Navy has evolved from a backward force composed of obsolete platforms into a reasonably modern fleet whose growth is significantly shaking the naval balance in East Asia The rationale behind China s contemporary rise at sea remains however difficult to grasp and few people have tried to see how the current structure of the international system has shaped Chinese choices This book makes sense of Chinese priorities in its naval modernization in a robust offensive realist framework Drawing on Barry Posen s works on sources of military doctrine it argues that the orientation of Beijing s choices concerning its naval forces can essentially be explained by China s position as a potential regional hegemon Yves Heng Lim highlights how a rising state develops naval power to fulfil its security objectives a theoretical perspective that goes farther than the sole Chinese case Immigration in the 21st

Legality: Law, Power and Politics in Zambia Jeremy Gould, 2023-03-24 This book interrogates the ideology and practices of liberal constitutionalism in the Zambian postcolony The analysis focuses on the residual political and governmental effects of an imperial form of power embodied in the person of the republican president termed here prerogativism Through systematic long term ethnographic engagement with Zambian constitutionalist activists lawyers judges and civic leaders the study examines how prerogativism has shaped the postcolonial political landscape and limited the possibilities of constitutional liberalism This is revealed in the ways that repeated efforts to reform the constitution have sidelined popular participation and thus failed to address the deep divide between a small elite stratum from which the constitutional activists are drawn and the marginalized masses of the population Along the way the study documents the intimate interpenetration of political and legal action and examines how prerogativism delimits the political engagements of elite actors Special attention is given to the reluctance of legal activists to engage with popular politics and to the conservative ethos that undermines efforts to pursue a jurisprudence of transformational constitutionalism in the findings of the Constitutional Court The work contributes to the rising interest in applying socio legal analysis to the statutory domain in postcolonial jurisdictions It offers a pioneering attempt to deconstruct the amorphous and ambivalent assemblage of ideas and practices related to constitutionalism through detailed ethnographic interrogation It will appeal to scholars students and practitioners with an interest in theorizing challenges to political liberalism in postcolonial contexts as well as in rethinking the methodological toolbox of socio legal analysis
