Netherlandish Painting: The van Eycks-Petrus Christus Max J. Friedländer, 1967 A Documentary History of Art, Volume 1 Elizabeth Gilmore Holt, 2024-05-21 An illuminating one volume compendium of primary documents on the art of medieval and Renaissance Europe This unique collection brings together notebooks letters treatises and contracts dealing with the art of the Middle Ages and Renaissance providing extraordinary insights into the personalities and conditions of the times and revealing the stylistic and philosophical concerns that evolved during these intensively creative eras These documents many of them available here in English for the first time range from Raoul Glaber's famous 1003 treatise on the synthesis of old and new art forms to Durand's essay on Christian symbolism in art and the writings of Leonardo and Durer on anatomy perspective and the recreation of reality They trace how a medieval conception of life that was inspired oriented and dominated by the church evolved gradually into the great reawakening of the Renaissance in which humankind itself assumed primary importance in Western art Van Eyck and the Founders of Early Netherlandish Painting Otto

Pächt, 1999 Jan van Eyck within His Art Alfred Acres, 2023-06-26 A new assessment of the inventive and influential artist Jan van Eyck Jan van Eyck 1390 1441 was one of the most inventive and influential artists in the entire European tradition The realism of his paintings continues to astound observers more than six centuries on even though our world is saturated by high resolution images However viewers today are as like to be absorbed by Van Eyck's personality as his realism While he sometimes directly painted himself into his works he also suggested his presence through an array of inscriptions signatures and even a personal motto Incorporating a wealth of new research and recent discoveries within a fresh exploration of the paintings themselves this book reveals how profoundly Jan van Eyck transformed the very idea of what an artist could be

Early Netherlandish Painting Otto Pächt, 1997 This volume follows on from Pacht's work on the Van Eycks and their circle to encompass the great artists of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries Figures such as Van Der Weyden Bouts Christus Van Der Goes and Memling as well as lesser known artists are examined in turn With detailed discussion of particular paintings style and symbolism

Early Netherlandish Painting Rosalind Mutter, 2008-02 EARLY NETHERLANDISH PAINTING A fully illustrated survey of Early Netherlandish painting featuring all of the major artists and many lesser known painters Early Netherlandish painting also known as Flemish painting is characterized by figurative realism its incredible sense of domestic interiors and details luminous light its realist faces and its fusions of a micro and macro cosmic vision We concentrate here on painters such as Rogier van der Weyden 1400 1464 Jan van Eyck c 1390 1441 commonly described as the founder of modern oil painting Gerard David c 1460 1523 Hugo van der Goes 1440 1482 Hans Memling 1433 1494 Joos van Cleve c 1485 1540 Jan Gossaert also called Mabuse c 1475 8 1532 Geertgen tot Sint Jans fl late 15th 1485 95 Quentin Massys c 1465 1530 Joachim Patinir c 1485 1524 Dieric Bouts c 1415 1475 Petrus Christus fl 1442 1473 and Bernard van Orley c 1488 1541 One of the most celebrated aspects of Early Netherlandish or Flemish painting is its heartfelt intense religious emotion It is this aspect that interests us in this book The new aesthetic vision of Early Netherlandish art was later applied to still life paintings satires landscapes and portraits but it is the religious works with which we are concentrating on here Michelangelo's famous statement about Early Netherlandish art pinpoints the depth of devout feeling found in so much of Northern European art Flemish painting will generally speaking please the devout better than any painting in Italy which will never cause him to shed a tear whereas that of Flanders will cause him to shed many The new vision of Northern European painting which flourished in the 15th century was a combination of a new aesthetic approach to reality and an intensifying of religious fervour The new vision aimed at sculptural accuracy a naturalistic use of lighting and three dimensionality Mixed with the new use of oil paint the new vision gave the art of Philip the Good's reign a special flavour and style well suited to the circumscription of devout religious truths The new painting inherited its jewel like brilliancy partly because many painters were trained as goldsmiths This skilled handling of metalwork and miniature illustration shows in Early Netherlandish art All Early Netherlandish paintings were made on wood panels and painted from light to dark in thin glazes It is partly this subtle glazing which gives Early Netherlandish painting its glorious luminescence The Early Netherlandish artists exploited the effects of different hues and thicknesses of glazes of oil paint controlling how the glazes reflected light
