Memory and visual discrimination problems are tackled when students evaluate differences between pairs of playful high interest illustrations. Students recall and interpret information in scenes of increasing difficulty and learn to watch for and remember missing details. The lessons in this book consist of reproducible pages, background information, easy to evaluate exercises and checklists for tracking success. Visual Discrimination Training for Children Experiencing Learning Difficulties Louise Sadler Kiessling, 1969. Visual Discrimination Winifred MacNulty Humphreville, 1973. Modified Basic Skills Penny Groves, 2002. Students who experience visual discrimination and memory difficulties will hardly know they are working as they enjoy the activities in this book. The author, a veteran classroom and special education teacher, has devised over 40 pages of exercises to challenge and build student's analysis and memory skills. Playful illustrations make learning fun as students search for details by comparing two slightly dissimilar scenes. Other exercises require students to recall missing items in illustrations of increasing complexity. The reproducible pages are easy to administer and check over without need for an answer key. Students can work one on one with an adult, in student pairs or in small groups. A checklist to show progress is included.
