a chapter giving their experiences and techniques for resolving conflict in communities across the globe The Permaculture Activist, 2004 When Technology Fails Matthew R. Stein, Matthew Stein, 2008-03-27 Matthew Stein's comprehensive guide to sustainable living skills gives you the tools you need to fend for yourself and your family in times of emergency or disaster. It also goes a step further giving sound instructions on how to become self-reliant in seemingly stable times and for the long term by adopting a sustainable lifestyle. Cover p 4 Rural Renaissance John D. Ivanko, Lisa Kivirist, 2009-05-01 In the 60s it was called the back to the land movement and in Helen and Scott Nearing's day it was living the good life. Whatever the term, North Americans have always yearned for a simpler way. But how do you accomplish that today? Blending inspiration with practical how-to's, Rural Renaissance captures the American dream of country living for contemporary times. Journey with the authors and experience their lessons, laughter, and love for the land as they trade the urban concrete maze for a five-acre organic farm and bed and breakfast in southwestern Wisconsin. Rural living today is a lot more than farming. It's about a creative, nature-based and more self-sufficient lifestyle that combines a love of squash, solar energy, skinny dipping, and serendipity. The many topics explored in Rural Renaissance include right livelihood and the good life, organic gardening and permaculture, renewable energy and energy conservation, wholesome organic food, safe water, and a natural home, simplicity, frugality, and freedom, green design and recycled materials, community, friends, and raising a family, independence and interdependence, wildlife conservation, and land stewardship. An authentic tale of a couple whose pioneering spirit and connection to the land reaches out to both the local and global community to make their dream come true, Rural Renaissance will appeal to a wide range of Cultural Creatives, free agents, conservation entrepreneurs, and both arm-chair and real-life homesteaders, regardless of where they live. Lisa Kivirist and John Ivanko are innkeepers, organic growers, copartners in a marketing consulting company, and have previously published books. John is also a photographer. Former advertising agency fast trackers, they are nationally recognized for their contemporary approach to homesteading, conservation, and more sustainable living. They share their farm with their son, two llamas, and a flock of free-range chickens. Rural Renaissance also offers a foreword by Bill McKibben. Routledge Handbook of Landscape and Food Joshua Zeunert, Tim Waterman, 2018-02-02 Since the turn of the millennium, there has been a burgeoning interest in and literature of both landscape studies and food studies. Landscape describes places as relationships and processes. Landscapes create people's identities and guide their actions, and their preferences while at the same time are shaped by the actions and forces of people. Food as currency, medium, and sustenance is a fundamental part of those landscape relationships. This volume brings together over fifty contributors from around the world in forty profoundly interdisciplinary chapters. Chapter authors represent an astonishing range of disciplines from agronomy, anthropology, archaeology, conservation, countryside management, cultural studies, ecology, ethics, geography, heritage studies, landscape architecture, landscape management, and planning, literature, urban design, and architecture. Both food studies and landscape studies defy comprehension from the perspective of a single discipline and thus such a range is both necessary and enriching The Routledge Handbook of Landscape and Food is intended as a first port of call for scholars and researchers seeking to undertake new work at the many intersections of landscape and food Each chapter provides an authoritative overview a broad range of pertinent readings and references and seeks to identify areas where new research is needed though these may also be identified in the many fertile areas in which subjects and chapters overlap within the book Permaculture International Journal ,1999

Food Not Lawns H. C. Flores,2006 Combines practical wisdom on ecological design and community building with a fresh green perspective on an age old subject Activist and urban gardener Heather Flores shares her nine step permaculture design to help farmsteaders and city dwellers alike build fertile soil promote biodiversity and increase natural habitat in their own paradise gardens This joyful lifestyle manual inspires readers to apply the principles of the paradise garden simplicity resourcefulness creativity mindfulness and community to all aspects of life Plant guerrilla gardens in barren intersections and medians organize community meals start a street theater troupe or host a local art swap free your kitchen from refrigeration and enjoy truly fresh nourishing foods from your own plot of land work with children to create garden play spaces Flores cares passionately about the damaged state of our environment and our throwaway society Here she shows us how to reclaim the earth one garden at a time From publisher description 21st Century Homestead: Sustainable
