Dispatches From An Unofficial War Artist Peter Kennard:

Dispatches from an Unofficial War Artist Peter Kennard, Ken Livingstone, Amanda Hopkinson, 2000 For more than twenty five years Peter Kennard has used his skills as a polemical artist to produce an astonishing collection of political photomontage images and installation work Trained in Fine Art Kennard abandoned painting in the 1970s in search of a new form of expression that could bring art and politics together for a wider audience Written from a highly personal perspective Dispatches from an Unofficial War Artist traces Kennard's artistic political and personal development from his early paintings in a coalshed to art school and to a number of left wing and radical campaigns including those for CND It brings together Kennard's own musings on his childhood art international politics and British society to make for a fascinating portrait of the times and of Kennard himself In her introduction Amanda Hopkinson discusses the historical roots of Kennard's work examining Constructivism the development of photography and photomontage and the close relationship between art politics and propaganda Kennard himself writes about the possibilities of undertaking an aesthetic practice in relation to social change and considers how his art has interacted with the politics of actual events The narrative is thematic rather than chronological showing how a visual motif can be re used in different contexts Kennard's original artwork is often reproduced alongside the newspaper or poster in which it appeared Unofficial War Artist Peter Kennard, 2015 Published to accompany the exhibition of the same name held at IWM London 14th May 2015 30th May 2015 Art and War Laura Brandon, 2012-11-25 This is a truly encyclopedic survey of artists responses both official and personal to the horrors of war Art and War reveals the sheer diversity of artists portrayals of this most devastating aspect of the human condition from the heroic paintings of Benjamin West and John Singer Sargent to brutal and iconic works by artists from Goya to Picasso and the equally oppositional work of Leon Golub Nancy Spero and others who reacted with fury to the Vietnam War Laura Brandon pays particular attention to work produced in response to World War I and World War II as well as to more recent art and memorial work by artists as diverse as Barbara Kruger Alfredo Jarr and Maya Lin She looks finally to the reactions of contemporary artists such as Langlands and Bell to the US invasion in 2001 of Afghanistan and the War on Terror New

Lives, New Landscapes Revisited Linda M. Ross, Katrina Navickas, Ben Anderson, Matthew Kelly, 2023-06-08 How did rural Britain become modern during the twentieth century New Lives New Landscapes examines how the development of modern infrastructure in Britain transformed both its landscapes and the lives of those who lived within them Shifting the focus away from the city the narrative challenges us to rethink what we mean by modern Britain British Nuclear Mobilisation

Since 1945 Jonathan Hogg, Kate Brown, 2021-05-18 This book explores aspects of the social and cultural history of nuclear Britain in the Cold War era 1945 1991 and contributes to a more multivalent exploration of the consequences of nuclear choices which are too often left unacknowledged by historians of post war Britain In the years after 1945 the British government mobilised money scientific knowledge people and military industrial capacity to create both an independent nuclear deterrent and the generation of electricity through nuclear reactors This expensive and vast technopolitical project mostly top secret and run by small sub committees within government was central to broader Cold War strategy and policy Recent attempts to map the resulting social and cultural history of these military industrial policy decisions suggest that nuclear mobilisation had far reaching consequences for British life The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Contemporary British History

Left Shift John A. Walker, 2001-12-21 John Walker brings to vivid life a neglected period in twentieth century art history He re creates a time when visual fine artists under the impact of left wing politics women s liberation and the gay movement were seeking to re establish a social purpose His story is one of a struggle for art by contending factions in the art world in which artists curators critics and organisations both establishment and alternative key exhibitions galleries and magazines all play a part He offers welcome insight into the work of the key players and the many forms they used to express radical engagement in the events of the decade

Art and Social Change Will Bradley, Charles Esche, 2007 This reader gathers together an international selection of artists proposals manifestos theoretical texts and public declarations that focus on the question of political engagement and the possibility of social change Back cover
