Disremembering Eddie:

Disremembering Eddie Anne Morgellyn, 2002-02-01 Mortuary technician Louise blows the whistle on former lover Eddie a colourful and corrupt government minister Then his body is wheeled into her morgue She is torn between the new man in her life the cool pathologist who performs the autopsy and her obsession to bury all of Eddie emotionally and physically even his stolen heart hidden in a jar behind her washing machine In a psychological chiller of suspicion betrayal paranoia and guilt Morgellyn dissects the raging debate surrounding disposal and ownership of corpses and organs But more than anything her book is a post mortem examination of relationships relationships between the living and the dead Visions of Invasion

Michael Lechuga, 2023-03-02 Visions of Invasion Alien Affects Cinema and Citizenship in Settler Colonies explores how the US government mobilizes media and surveillance technologies to operate a highly networked multidimensional system for controlling migrants Author Michael Lechuga focuses on three arenas where a citizenship control assemblage manufactures alienhood Hollywood extraterrestrial invasion film federal antimigration and border security legislation and various immigration enforcement protocols implemented along the Mexico United States border Building on rhetorical studies settler colonial studies and media studies Visions of Invasion offers a glimpse at how the processes of alien making contribute to an ongoing settler colonial project in the US Lechuga demonstrates that popular films The War of the Worlds Predator Men in Black and more participate in the production of migrants as subjective terrorists felons and other noncitizen personae vilified in public discourse Beyond just tracing how alien invasion narratives circulate in popular media Lechuga describes how the logics motivating early US colonists materialize in both the US's citizenship control policy and in some of the country's most popular texts Beneath each of the film franchises and antimigrant political expressions described in Visions of Invasion lies an anxious colonial logic in which the settler way of life is seemingly threatened by false narratives of imminent invasion from abroad The volume offers a deep dive into how the rhetorical figure of the alien has been manufactured as a political subjectivity one that plays out the anxieties guilts and fears of colonialism in today's science fiction landscape Teaching and Learning Through the Holocaust Anthony Pellegrino, Jeffrey Parker, 2022-12-16 This book serves as a critical resource for educators across various roles and contexts who are interested in Holocaust education that is both historically sound and practically relevant As a collection it pulls together a diverse group of scholars to share their research and experiences The volume endeavors to address topics including the nature and purpose of Holocaust education how our understanding of the Holocaust has changed and resources we can use with learners These themes are consistent across the chapters making for a comprehensive exploration of learning through the Holocaust today and in the future Slavery and Sacred Texts Jordan T. Watkins, 2021-07-01 In the decades before the Civil War Americans appealed to the nation's sacred religious and legal texts the Bible and the Constitution to address the slavery crisis The ensuing political debates over slavery deepened interpreters emphasis on historical readings of the sacred texts and in turn these readings began to highlight the unbridgeable historical distances that separated nineteenth century Americans from biblical and founding pasts While many Americans continued to adhere to a belief in the Bible s timeless teachings and the Constitution s enduring principles some antislavery readers including Theodore Parker Frederick Douglass and Abraham Lincoln used historical distance to reinterpret and use the sacred texts as antislavery documents By using the debate over American slavery as a case study Jordan T Watkins traces the development of American historical consciousness in antebellum America showing how a growing emphasis on historical readings of the Bible and the Constitution gave rise to a sense of historical distance

Teaching Controversial Issues Nel Noddings, Laurie Brooks, 2017 In this book eminent educational philosopher Nel Noddings and daughter Laurie Brooks explain how teachers can foster critical thinking through the exploration of controversial issues The emphasis is on the use of critical thinking to understand and collaborate not simply to win arguments The authors describe how critical thinking that encourages dialogue across the school disciplines and across social economic classes prepares students for participation in democracy They offer specific concrete strategies for addressing a variety of issues related to authority religion gender race media sports entertainment class and poverty capitalism and socialism and equality and justice The goal is to develop individuals who can examine their own beliefs those of their own and other groups and those of their nation and can do so with respect and understanding for others values Book Features Underscores the necessity of moral commitment in the use of critical thinking Offers assistance for handling controversial issues that many teachers find unsettling Proposes a way for students and teachers to work together across the disciplines Brooks and Noddings offer a timely and inspirational guide for teaching critical thinking in American schools With deep roots in American philosophy and traditions this book inspires us to teach students to question authority while fostering meaningful conversations about the difficult issues confronting our nation This book offers a recipe for nurturing the next generation of caring and critical democratic citizens Andrew Fiala professor California State University Fresno Chock full of contemporary and historical examples this book offers educators myriad examples of how to help students learn to talk with and listen to others and to understand the fullness of our collective humanity Suzanne M Wilson University of Connecticut

Politics, Education, and Social Problems Jennifer Rich, 2021-06-17 This book offers an innovative perspective on the intersection of politics education and social problems It considers how we can create social change by talking about politics and social problems in more open direct and inclusive ways in educational spaces Drawing on data from a range of settings this book closely examines how and when complicated conversations take place in classrooms schools and communities The book tackles a series of hot button timely issues including race religion politics and gender and turns a critical eye to schools and the communities in which they are situated the conversations adults have and pointedly ignore with one another and perhaps most critically the politics that shape our society Black Lives Matter in US Schools Boni Wozolek, 2022-07-01 Winner of the 2023 Outstanding Book Award presented by the Division B of the American Educational Research Association

Black Lives Matter in US Schools critically examines the relationship between schooling and sociocultural abolitionist movements such as BlackLivesMatter Aligning with a long history of education scholars who have insisted on the enmeshed nature of schools and society the book addresses the role of various forms of curricula that perpetuate anti Blackness while simultaneously shaping Black ways of being knowing and doing While its focus tends toward issues of normalized violence Black Lives Matter in US Schools is equally concerned with possibilities for justice stemming from curricular change and affects like hope and love that are central to radical acts of resistance to oppression Themes range from critical literacies to IQ tests from Afro surrealism to historiography as the book strategically tacks between traditional forms of qualitative and quantitative research and more personal narratives Black Lives Matter in US Schools speaks powerfully against the continued onslaught of inequities in schools and their communities working to create space for forms of learning that are responsible to and for Black lives
