Fyock,1993-01-01 This innovative four module series is designed to introduce managers to the issues surrounding current workforce diversity challenges Diversity and Equality at Work. Opportunities and Challenges Mercy Njiru,2016-02-12 Research Paper postgraduate from the year 2014 in the subject Business economics Business Management Corporate Governance language English abstract This paper defines diversity and equality in the context of workplace and describes associated opportunities and challenges The two aspects of equality and diversity in the workplace are multifaceted and they include more than just embracing the dissimilarities amongst individuals and the equality elements protecting particular individuals from racial ethnic sexual orientation disability religion gender and age factors Diversity in the workplace refers to recognizing understanding consenting appreciating and celebrating the dissimilarities amongst individuals with respect to their age social class culture sex capability ethnicity sexual orientation and religion Globalization is always advancing thus requiring more collaboration and communication among individuals from various beliefs cultures and backgrounds than before Currently individuals do not live and work in a parochial market instead they are part of a global economy that is facing competition from about every continent Thus organizations require diversity in order to become more innovative and receptive to change According to Esty Richard and Marcie 1995 exploiting and making the most out of diversity in the workplace has become an imperative issue for organizational management today

Equality in the workplace is about impartiality or fairness and giving every individual a chance to participate in organizational development and the opportunity to accomplish their potential. The Society for Human Resource Management (1998) holds that equality comes about through eliminating prejudice and discrimination. Equality reinforces accomplishment in the workplace since it goes further than just providing equal opportunities for all. It includes a promise to providing every individual with services that are of equal value to all and understanding that this could mean providing different services to different individuals in order to accommodate their diverse needs. Inventory on Cultural Diversity Challenges and Opportunities G. Implementation Strategies for Improving Diversity in Organizations Hughes, Claretha, 2020-07-10
Awareness and inclusion are not enough to create effective change in organizations and society. Instead, organizations must implement strategies to ensure that they not only improve diversity but also place their employees on career development plans that provide the best fit between individual and organizational needs as well as personal characteristics and career roles. Implementation Strategies for Improving Diversity in Organizations is a pivotal reference source that provides crucial research on the application of stratagems designed to increase organizational change chiefly to integrate diverse individuals including physically disabled individuals, women, and people of color into the workforce. The book also looks at discriminatory practices involving the physical appearance of workers. While highlighting topics such as career development, lookism, and ethnic discrimination, this publication explores new innovative ideas influencing the paradigm shift for the modern workforce as well as the methods of career development. This book is ideally designed for managers, executives, human resources professionals, researchers, business practitioners, academicians, and students. *Diversity in Teams and Organizations. Garcia,1998 Teaching to Difference? The Challenges and Opportunities of Diversity in the Classroom Nicole E. Johnson,Stacey-Ann Wilson,2014-08-11 Teaching to Difference The Challenges and Opportunities of Diversity in the Classroom offers a comparative perspective on the pedagogical and cultural issues in managing differences and diversity in the classroom Using reflections and experiential analysis the volume presents perspectives on the experiences of teaching and learning through differences of race ethnicity culture sexual orientation and gender language special needs and geography from contexts such as the United States Canada New Zealand and Israel The reflections are presented from the viewpoint of minority teaching professionals and white educators teaching diverse student populations ranging from K 12 to college students and pre service teachers This volume provides a lens into the questions reflections and experiences of teachers and practitioners when they encounter difference in the classroom The essays highlight the trepidation and frustration educators feel when they perceive themselves to be ill prepared for diversity in their classrooms However there are also essays of triumph and success when teachers feel they have reached their students in a meaningful way Additionally through the experiences depicted teachers describe their processes of connecting to students how they determined what worked and did not work in their journey and what they learned from the experience that continues to impact them

Impact of Age and Gender Diversity on Employee Performance in an Organisation. A Case Study of Zambia Compulsory Standards Agency Michael Mulenga,2019-08-28 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2019 in the subject Leadership and Human Resources Miscellaneous language English abstract The purpose of the study was to determine the impact of age and gender diversity on employee performance in an organisation A descriptive research design was adopted with Zambia Compulsory Standards Agency ZCSA being the focus organisation The target population comprised a total of 103 employees from various units of the institution Stratified random sampling technique was used to draw a sample size of 50 respondents from various hierarchical levels The main data collection instruments were an open and close ended questionnaire and an interview guide A set of descriptive statistics including frequencies percentages the mean and standard deviation were used to generate tables bar graphs and pie charts to present the results of the study using SPSS version18 The key findings of the study were that both age and gender diversity have a bearing on the performance of an employee and ultimately on the organisation Findings show that employees felt comfortable working with either older or younger employees Others felt positive about being involved in teams that consist of employees with varying ages as this improves their performance The study found that gender diversity has a high predictive power on employee performance On the other hand organisations that create an inclusive environment for all employees irrespective of gender and create policies that eliminate discrimination from the workplace can benefit from gender diversity A significant relationship between gender diversity and work performance has shown that employees like to work with the opposite gender so long as they can carry out their job professionally The study concluded that age diversity is a very crucial resource for firms that intend to have sustainable workforce It also argues that gender diversity is a vital factor for organisational performance The study findings show that age diversity is a very crucial resource for organisations that intend to maintain a sustainable workforce By allowing the establishment of a leadership pipeline age diversity not only facilitates the creation of a pool of competent employees but allows the organisation to sustain its way of doing business including best practices Valuing Diversity Training System: Facilitator's handbook ,1993 Cultural Diversity and Disability Mariellen Laucht Kuehn,1998 *Transactions of the ...
