Parabolic Figures or Narrative Fictions? Charles W. Hedrick,2016-06-10 Hedrick contends that parables do not teach moral and religious lessons they are not in whole or part theological figures for the church Rather parables are realistic narrative fictions that like all effective fiction literature are designed to draw readers into story worlds where they make discoveries about themselves by finding their ideas challenged and subverted or affirmed The parables have endings but not final resolutions because the endings raise new complications for careful readers which require further resolution The narrative contexts and interpretations supplied by the evangelists constitute an attempt by the early church to bring the secular narratives of Jesus under the control of the church s later religious perspectives Each narrative represents a fragment of Jesus s secular vision of reality Finding himself outside the mainstream of parables scholarship both ecclesiastical and critical Hedrick explored a literary approach to the parables in a series of essays that among other things set out the basic rationale for a literary approach to the parables of Jesus These early essays form the central section of the book They are published here in edited form along with unpublished critiques of a thoroughgoing literary approach and his response Butterflies in the Belfry -- Serpents in the Cellar: An Unintended Pursuit for a Natural Christianity J. Michael Jones,2017-01-06 In 1988 while working for a demanding Christian organization Michael Jones moves his family to the Middle East to serve as missionaries to Muslims Though Michael finds the Muslim people to be extremely hospitable he discovers serious flaws within his own evangelical worldview After a catastrophic collapse of faith standing in middle of the post evangelical wilderness Michael contemplates possible paths out including returning to agnosticism or even suicide He takes the reader on an intimate yet intellectually enthralling journey through his personal history and the history of Western civilization In the end not only does he find the answers to his personal dilemma but inadvertently he discovers a refreshing form of Christianity that has been forgotten This book shares insights the author gained during front line service amid the conflicts that arise when worldviews clash and presents his field tested portrait of a raw focused and muscular Christianity

Christian Science Before the Bar of Reason Louis Aloisius Lambert,1908 Current Literature ,1907 Current Opinion ,1909 Paperbound Books in Print ,1992 The Methodist Review ,1902 Cesare Borgia Arthur Symons,1920 The Messenger of the Sacred Heart of Jesus ,1901 Current Literature Edward Jewitt Wheeler, Frank Crane,1909 The Road to Extrema Bob Reiss,1992 A journey into the Amazon where the conflict among Indians and gold miners ranchers and settlers and developers and environmentalists is destroying the rain forest and changing the whole world Reiss enters a chaotic world where the human population is exploding while animal species are disappearing where the war against poverty involves the destruction of nature Divine Assassin Bob Reiss,1986
