Divine Commitment and Human Obligation: History and religion David Noel Freedman,1997 Divine Commitment and Human Obligation David Noel Freedman, Divine Commitment and Human Obligation: Poetry and orthography David Noel Freedman,1997 Divine Commitment And Human Obligation David Noel Freedman,1997
Divine Commitment and Human Obligation David Noel Freedman,1964 Covenant (biblical Themes Series) Steven L. McKenzie,2000 Each book in this series provides an in depth look at a major recurring theme in the Bible and its lasting theological influence The series is designed to enhance the reader s understanding of our biblical heritage and its relevance to faithful life today Covenant is a principal image used in both testaments to express the relationship between God and humans McKenzie explores the theological concepts of election faithfulness obedience and law as they relate to covenant in both Testaments and raises the importance of covenant as a link between Judaism and Christianity The Covenant Theme Timothy J. Peters,2003 Glory and Power, Ritual and Relationship Richard J. Bauckham,2009-09-01 The book s point of departure is the return from the Exile which is presented as an opportunity for Jews primarily those in Judah to interpret anew the relationship between God and Israel The relationship had traditionally been thought of as a covenant and central to the book s thesis is that post exilic writers used a paradigm that was essentially that of the pre exilic Mosaic covenant i e a pact between God and humanity conditioned by the latter s observance of the law The first part of the book describes the process whereby the Mosaic covenant was renovated and its content brought up to date In this discussion familiar topoi of Second Temple Judaism such as penitential prayer creation theology and kinship ethos are shown to be integral to a contemporary concept of creation The second part of the book explores a paradox On the one hand the fact that the Mosaic covenant was articulated in the discourse of kinship marked it with an insularity that in turn made this covenant attractive to sectarian groups Here evidence is adduced largely from the Dead Sea Scrolls On the other hand as the dominant paradigm the Mosaic covenant had ascribed to it a high level of normativity as seen in the work of tradents such as the Priestly editors and the author of Jubilees Ultimately the Mosaic covenant was invoked at the center and the periphery as both a normative theological concept and a cipher to sectarian self identity The book concludes that by the end of the Second Temple period although the Mosaic covenant was normative in terms of a covenantal nomism that was incumbent upon the Jews the covenant s sectarian tendenz made its precepts non binding and optional Old Testament Theology John Goldingay,2010-02-08 This the second of three volumes in John Goldingay s Old Testament Theology examines the theology of the Old Testament under the major rubrics of God Israel The Nightmare judgment The Vision hope The World The Nations and Humanity The Child in the Bible Marcia J. Bunge, Terence E. Fretheim, Beverly Roberts Gaventa,2008-09-15 In this volume nineteen biblical scholars collaborate to provide an informed and focused treatment of biblical perspectives on children and childhood Looking at the Bible through the lens of the child exposes new aspects of biblical texts and themes

Some of the authors focus on selected biblical texts Genesis Proverbs Mark and more while others examine such biblical themes as training and disciplining children and the image of God the metaphor of Israel as a child and so on In discussing a vast array of themes and questions the chapters also invite readers to reconsider the roles that children can or should play in religious communities today Contributors Reidar Aasgaard David L Bartlett William P Brown Walter Brueggemann Marcia J Bunge John T Carroll Terence E Fretheim Beverly Roberts Gaventa Joel B Green Judith M Gundry Jacqueline E Lapsley Margaret Y MacDonald Claire R Mathews McGinnis Esther M Menn Patrick D Miller Brent A Strawn Marianne Meye Thompson W Sibley Towner Keith J White Jesus' Sermon on the Mount Jack R. Lundbom, 2015 The Sermon on the Mount Matthew 5-7 is the best known repository of the teachings of Jesus and one of the most studied Amid the considerable erudition expended on the Sermon however Jack R Lundbom argues that it has proven too easy to deflect or disregard the main thrust of the Sermon which he characterizes as a mandate to holy living and a greater righteousness Through careful attention to the structure of Matthews Gospel and the place of the Sermon within it keen sensitivity to the patterns and themes of Israelite prophecy and judicious comparisons with other Jewish and rabbinic literature Lundbom elucidates the meaning of the Sermon and its continuity with Israels prophetic heritage as well as the best of Jewish teaching By deft appeal to Christian commentators on the Sermon Lundbom brings its most important themes to life for the contemporary reader seeking always to understand what the greater righteousness to which the Sermon summons might mean for us today

Gift Upon Gift Dr. Sherri Brown, 2010-08-11 This study builds upon recent scholarship exploring the significance of the Old Testament covenant metaphor in the Johannine writings By examining the Gospel of John as a whole through a narrative lens and focusing on several key dialogues the author sheds light on the dialogical nature of the revelatory process and the central role of covenant for the Fourth Evangelist Also incorporating recent scholarship that suggests the evangelist understood himself to be writing Scripture based upon fulfillment language present in summary statements across the Gospel and demonstrating a relationship between the Fourth Gospel and ancient drama that renders speech as action this work attempts to construct a new paradigm for reading John against the background of the Old Testament covenant metaphor The claim is twofold the Johannine story of Jesus Christ is a carefully crafted literary treatise theologically underpinned by discourse on covenant and Scripture and the Fourth Evangelist provides catechesis to a believing community on the nature of its faith in the God of Israel s ongoing covenant with the created order By grasping the theological fabric of the evangelist the richness of the dialogue and imagery of his Gospel is allowed to have its full voice in terms of covenant fulfillment and the ongoing commitment of God to a believing people Judgment & Justification in Early Judaism and the Apostle Paul Chris VanLandingham, 2006 Is salvation a gift of God s grace or something God s followers must earn by good works How do we reconcile the two emphases that salvation is a bestowal of God s mercy and that the final judgment will involve an assessment of the way people have lived during their time on earth In Paul and Palestinian Judaism 1977 E P Sanders defined the terms and laid the groundwork for this crucial debate Sanders's New Perspective sought to resolve the tension between grace and good deeds by arguing that for the Jews of Paul's day as well as for Paul himself entrance into God's saving covenant was a gift of God's grace while remaining in the covenant required good works done in obedience to God Sanders's most vigorous opponents have disputed the works side of his formulation taking issue with his contention that obedience is required to retain right standing in God's covenant In Judgment and Justification Chris VanLandingham challenges the grace side of the Sanders thesis arguing that Paul's teaching on salvation following the prevailing Jewish thinking of his time establishes good works as the criterion for salvation at the final judgment In making his case VanLandingham does a text by text survey of early Jewish literature interacting with a wide range of biblical scholars who deal with the themes of salvation and literature and judgment found in these texts and in the Pauline writings VanLandingham wraps up this survey with a challenging reassessment of Paul's teaching in the light of the Jewish thinking of his time

Johannine Discipleship as a Covenant Relationship Rekha M. Chennattu, 2006 This work presents a first class study of Old Testament covenant theology which breaks new ground in Johannine scholarship It provides a detailed interpretation of the discipleship narratives and discourses in John's Gospel It investigates Old Testament discipleship motifs sets the Johannine community within the Jewish world and argues that according to the Gospel of John the relationship with God that had defined Israel as a people of God also defines the disciples of Jesus

The Time, Place, and Purpose of the Deuteronomistic History Jeffrey C. Ambiguity, Tension, and Multiplicity in Deutero-Isaiah Hyun Chul Paul Kim, 2003 Does Isaiah 40-55 convey a unified message on the relationship between Israel and the nations This book argues that Isaiah 40-55 contains the texts and concepts of both universalism and particularism Examining four select texts 42:1-13 44:24-45:8 49:22-26 51:1-8 with special attention given to their textuality intertextuality and infratextuality conceptuality Hyun Chul Paul Kim suggests the existence of both unified conceptuality and diverse signifiers Through synchronic and diachronic analyses this work uncovers the intentional ambiguity tension and multiplicity on the concept of the servant's identity as well as other key concepts how these diverse concepts can be read with respect to authorial intention and what the implications are for the ongoing debates on the unity and diversity of the book of Isaiah
