Divine Hunger Cannibalism As A Cultural System:

Divine Hunger Peggy Reeves Sanday, 1986-07-25 The practice of cannibalism is in certain cultures rejected as evil while in others it plays a central part in the ritual order Anthropologists have offered various explanations for the existence of cannibalism none of which Peggy Sanday claims is adequate In this book she presents a new approach to understanding the phenomenon Through a detailed examination of ritual cannibalism in selected tribal societies and a comparison of those cases with others in which the practice is absent she shows that cannibalism is closely linked to people's orientation to the world and that it serves as a concrete device for distinguishing the cultural self from the natural other Combining perspectives drawn from the work of Ricoeur Freud Hegel and Jung and from symbolic anthropology Sanday argues that ritual cannibalism is intimately connected both with the constructs by which the origin and continuity of life are understood and assured from one generation to the next and with the way in which that understanding is used to control the vital forces considered necessary for the cannibalism in a culture derives from basic human attitudes toward life and death combined with the realities of the material world As well as making an original contribution to the understanding of the significant human practice Sanday also develops a theoretical argument of wider relevance to anthropologists sociologists and other readers interested in the function and meaning of cannibalism

Divine Hunger Peggy Reeves Sanday, 1986-07-25 A new approach to understanding the phenomenon of ritual cannibalism through a detailed examination of selected tribal societies demonstrates that the practice is closely linked to people's orientation to the world and helps distinguish cultural self

Nameless, Blameless, and Without Shame Gina Hens-Piazza, 2003 Nameless Blameless and Without Shame is a character study of two obscure women before a king 2 Kings 6 24 33 It explores the violence encoded in the texts by the privileged powerful The character study connects these cannibal mothers to portraits of other pairs of biblical mothers and their plight the two mothers before Solomon Sarah and Hagar Rachel and Leah This prompts us to search for counter stories in the biblical tradition and in our own lives opposing the violence embedded there The text and the tradition of interpretation would urge us to disregard scorn or even indict these two women and all they represent However the character analysis emerging out of this literary assessment argues in favor of elevating these nameless mothers as blameless Chapters are Building Character A Story Within Stories Literary Criticism and the Tale of Two Cannibal Mothers A Postmodern Literary Study of Two Cannibal Mothers Before a King Stories Speak of Other Stories and Character Counter Texts and Conclusion Gina Hens Piazza PhD is an associate professor of biblical studies at the Jesuit School of Theology at the Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley She has written and lectured extensively on topics of literary studies women and social justice in relation to biblical texts

Ecocollapse Fiction and Cultures of Human Extinction Sarah E. McFarland, 2021-01-28 This work analyzes 21st century realistic speculations of human extinction fictions that imagine future worlds without interventions of as yet uninvented technology interplanetary travel or other science fiction elements that provide hope for rescue or long term survival Climate change fiction as a genre of apocalyptic and post apocalyptic writing usually resists facing the potentiality of human species extinction following instead traditional generic conventions that imagine primitivist communities of human survivors with the means of escaping the consequences of global climate change Yet amidst the ongoing sixth great extinction works that problematize survival provide no opportunities for social rebirth and speculate humanity's final end may address the problem of how to reject the impulse of human exceptionalism that pervades climate change discourse and post apocalyptic fiction Rather than following the preferences of the genre the ecocollapse fictions examined here manifest apocalypse where the means for a happy ending no longer exists In these texts diminished ecosystems specters of cannibalism and disintegrations of difference and othering render human self identity as radically malleable within their confrontations with the stark materiality of all life This book is the first in depth exploration of contemporary fictions that imagine the imbrication of human and nonhuman within global species extinctions It closely interrogates novels from authors like Peter Heller Cormac McCarthy and Yann Martel that reject the impulse of human exceptionalism to demonstrate what it might be like to go extinct

Mummies, Cannibals and Vampires Richard Sugg, 2015-11-06 Mummies Cannibals and Vampires charts in vivid detail the largely forgotten history of European corpse medicine which saw kings ladies gentlemen priests and scientists prescribe swallow or wear human blood flesh bone fat brains and skin in an attempt to heal themselves of epilepsy bruising wounds sores plague cancer gout and depression In this comprehensive and accessible text Richard Sugg shows that far from being a medieval therapy corpse medicine was at its height during the social and scientific revolutions of early modern Britain surviving well into the eighteenth century and amongst the poor lingering stubbornly on into the time of Queen Victoria Ranging from the execution scaffolds of Germany and Scandinavia through the courts and laboratories of Italy France and Britain to the battlefields of Holland and Ireland and on to the tribal man eating of the Americas Mummies Cannibals and Vampires argues that the real cannibals were in fact the Europeans Picking our way through the bloodstained shadows of this remarkable secret history we encounter medicine cut from bodies living and dead sacks of human fat harvested after a gun battle gloves made of human skin and the first mummy to appear on the London stage Lit by the uncanny glow of a lamp filled with human blood this second edition includes new material on exo cannibalism skull medicine the blood drinking of Scandinavian executions Victorian corpse stroking and the magical powers of candles made from human fat In our quest to understand the strange paradox of routine Christian cannibalism we move from the Catholic vampirism of the Eucharist through the routine filth and discomfort of early modern bodies and in to the potent numinous source of corpse medicine s ultimate power the human soul itself Now accompanied by a companion website with supplementary articles interviews with the author related images summaries of key topics and a glossary the second edition of Mummies Cannibals and Vampires is an essential read for anyone interested in the history of medicine early modern history and the darker hidden past of European Christendom

Near a Thousand Tables Felipe Fernandez-Armesto, 2002-06-04 In Near a Thousand Tables acclaimed food historian Felipe Fern ndez Armesto tells the fascinating story of food as cultural as well as culinary history a window on the history of mankind In this appetizingly provocative Los Angeles Times book he guides readers through the eight great revolutions in the world history of food the origins of cooking which set humankind on a course apart from other species the ritualization of eating which brought magic and meaning into people s relationship with what they ate the inception of herding and the invention of agriculture perhaps the two greatest revolutions of all the rise of inequality which led to the development of haute cuisine the long range trade in food which practically alone broke down cultural barriers the ecological exchanges which revolutionized the global distribution of plants and livestock and finally the industrialization and globalization of mass produced food From prehistoric snail herding to Roman banquets to Big Macs to genetically modified tomatoes Near a Thousand Tables is a full course meal of extraordinary narrative brilliant insight and fascinating explorations that will satisfy the hungriest of readers
