Anti-racism and Multiculturalism Mark Alleyne,2017-09-08 All scholarly books are engagements with the existing literature often the published scholarly work of one established discipline This book originated with modest objectives to produce a work that would be in conversation with the literature of international relations even though not of relevance only to that field The professed goal of international relations is international peace The ethical lens of pondering the best means to achieve world peace is used to filter media content in the field of multiculturalism and anti racism Although there has been little work on the impact of racial difference on the contours of contemporary international order there has been a sizeable body of research intended to abolish the credibility of pseudo scientific racism Such racism has provided the ideological foundation and justification for imperialism colonialism the holocaust and apartheid Race has been debunked as a myth Because of this racism the ideology bred of human classification according to racial difference has been found to be intellectually and morally barren But the need to communicate egalitarian and scientific sentiments remains The contributors to this volume consider five questions How does the literature on antiracism improve our understanding of conflict resolution How does the analysis of the media s role in racist and anti racist discourses improve the process of theorizing on hate and war propaganda How can research on anti racist discourse improve UN peacekeeping What implications does this subject have for theory building and cultural diversity How and why should the literature on anti racism expand research in international relations This is a unique worthwhile framework for cross disciplinary research in race and intellectual consensus and conflict

Diversity Tool Kit Lee Gardenswartz, Anita Rowe, 1994 Includes over 100 sample agendas skill building exercises questionnaires and other structured tools covering areas of diversity training This work includes laminated activity cards tabs between sections and information needed to launch a diversity program

Media in Motion Elisabeth Eide, 2016-04-29 Owing to increased migration dating from the 1990s Nordic countries have gone through substantial cultural and social changes resulting in increased debate surrounding the politics of multiculturalism One of the central realms of the discussion around multiculturalism in the Nordic region concerns the media which is considered to be a vital factor in the construction of society s values as well as an essential tool in the integration process of migrants providing as it does a symbolic arena for learning about and becoming part of society This collection draws together the latest research from Denmark Finland Norway and Sweden to look at different aspects of the relationship between media and migration in the Nordic region Exploring the role played by the media in nation building and the power of the media in the definition of who belongs in society Media in Motion examines the practices of inclusion and exclusion that characterise mainstream media representations The book also examines the manner in which recent technological changes suggest the emergence of a transnational and cosmopolitan media landscape a space which blurs the boundaries of the national and transnational as well as between the public and the private with significant implications for the ways migrants may take and become part of society As such it will be of interest to those working in the fields of media race and ethnicity colonialism and postcolonial studies and migration
