Divine Sovereignty and Human Responsibility D. A. Carson,2002-01-07 Both theology and philosophy wrestle with the tension that exists between the sovereignty of God and human response In Christianity this tension is particularly acute as God is understood to be both omnipotent and benevolent This tension underlies numerous other questions about the nature of God the meaning of human freedom and choice the concept of divine repentance the reign of God and supremely the significance of the incarnation Dr Carson brings clear scholarly insights and finely honed exegetical skills to this all pervasive issue seeing it not so much as a problem to be solved as a framework to be explored He examines the sovereignty responsibility themes in the Old Testament intertestamental literature and in the theology of John s gospel and concludes with a reflection on the theological implications for ministry and mission today Systematic Theology Vincent Cheung,2014-11-25 An introduction to Christian theology as a coherent system of beliefs founded on the sovereignty of God and the infallibility of Scripture Contents 1 Theology 2 Scripture 3 God 4 Man 5 Christ and 6 Salvation The Unitarian Jabez Thomas Sunderland,Brooke Herford,Frederick B. R. De Roo,2007 The phrase works of the law occurs only in the Dead Sea Scrolls and in Paul but it has a different connotation in each corpus At Qumran the works of the law are deeds of obedience to God's law and are ultimately inspired by God They function as a means of atonement whether for the individual who performs them or for the sins of others For Paul on the other hand the works of the law are quintessentially the works of Abraham Though they are indeed good deeds Abraham himself was a sinful man and so his deeds could not make atonement for himself or for others In fact Paul is reacting against the idea of Abraham as a redeemer figure that was held by some of his contemporaries The phrase works of the law thus takes on a negative coloration in Paul as a deceptively false means of salvation Against Qumran Paul's position is that justification must be effected apart from works of the law and thus by Jesus Christ Abraham is no second Adam as some were thinking and his good deeds epitomized in his sacrifice of Isaac had no atoning value This closely reasoned study makes an important contribution to the study of New Testament theology it undertakes to settle some long standing debates about Paul's soteriology by proposing an alternative both to traditional interpretation of Paul and to the New Perspective on Paul The Encyclopedia Britannica ,1911
