Divine Office:

The Liturgy of the Hours in East and West Robert Taft, 2024-05-30 The origins and development of the Divine Office are traced through both Eastern and Western branches of the Church providing a wealth of historical and liturgical information From the small beginnings of a few Christians in New Testament Jerusalem the prayer of the Church spread changing and evolving as it met and was assimilated by different cultures This classic study is a major resource for the liturgical scholar

The Divine Office in the Latin Middle Ages Margot Elsbeth Fassler, Rebecca Anne Baltzer, 2000 The Divine Office or the cycle of daily worship services other than the Mass constitutes a body of liturgical texts and music for medieval studies This is a collection of spiritual works that is central to the culture of the Middle Ages

The Divine Office: Explanation of the Psalms and Canticles Saint Alphonsus de Liguori, Aeterna Press, This difficult work composed at so advanced an age amidst sufferings almost continual and numerous occupations excited at Naples the admiration of learned men According to Canon Massa professor of theology and ecclesiastical examiner the author in his work explains so skilfully the sense and the obscure passages of the psalms that without taking anything from the purity of the inspired word he aids both the heart and the mind of those that read it The Holy See has frequently praised and recommended all the works of St Alphonsus but the decree of March 23 1871 which conferred on St Alphonsus the title of Doctor of the Church makes special mention of this work speaking of it as one of his most useful and salutary works The decree says He St Alphonsus has made clear dark passages of the Holy Scriptures both in his ascetic writings which are freighted with a celestial odor and in a most salutary commentary in which for the nourishment of piety and the instruction of the soul he has given expositions of the Psalms as well as of the Canticles for the benefit especially of those obliged to its recitation Aeterna Press

The Divine Office: A Study of the Roman Breviary Edward J. Quigley, 2022-05-28 Reverend Edward J Quigley s The Divine Office A Study of the Roman Breviary presents a meticulous exploration of the cornerstone of canonical hours in Christian liturgical tradition This scholarly work traverses the historical evolution significance and ceremonial structure of the Breviary a compendium of hymns psalms and prayers that constitute the liturgical fabric of the divine office The text exhibits a thoughtful composition interweaving liturgical exegesis with a pedagogic style suitable for collegiate novitiates The reverential tone and comprehensive analysis found within its pages situate it as a pivotal resource among contemporary studies of ecclesiastic traditions and practices A product of enduring faith and academic rigor Quigley s guide draws from his extensive experience and education within the ecclesial community His background likely steeped in theological studies pastoral work and a commitment to the dissemination of church teachings lays the foundation for this authoritative instruction Quigley s intentions perhaps stem from a desire to enlighten the clergy s future generations about the intricate beauty and theological depths of the Breviary ensuring its principles remain embedded in the daily life of the Church The Divine Office is an essential primer for those seeking to deepen their understanding of the Roman Breviary and the canonical hours Its academic integrity and didactic nature render it particularly invaluable to seminarians and the clergy yet it also extends an inviting hand to lay individuals earnest in expanding their knowledge of liturgical devotion Quigley offers readers an insightful passage into the heart of the Church s daily rhythm of prayer instilling an appreciation for the transcendent dialogue sustained between the faithful and the divine The divine office, a letter. From the Ital. Ed. by I. Cummins Divine office,1903 The Divine Office Edward J. Quigley,2013-02 This book hardcover is part of the TREDITION CLASSICS It contains classical literature works from over two thousand years Most of these titles have been out of print and off the bookstore shelves for decades The book series is intended to preserve the cultural legacy and to promote the timeless works of classical literature Readers of a TREDITION CLASSICS book support the mission to save many of the amazing works of world literature from oblivion With this series tradition intends to make thousands of international literature classics available in printed format again worldwide The Divine Office E. J. Quigley,2022-10-26 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Daily Prayer in the Early Church Paul F. Bradshaw,2008-10-01 In liturgical study and especially in English liturgical study the subject of the daily office has always been something of the poor relation writes the author in his preface This volume aims to do something to fill that gap It begins with a detailed examination of the Jewish background and of the practice of daily prayer in the first three centuries of the Church and goes on to trace the evolution of the divine office in both its monastic and secular forms in East and West down to the time of St Benedict Intended as a replacement for The Influence of the Synagogue upon the Divine Office by C W Dugmore Alcuin Club Collection No 45 it not only incorporates the results of recent research by continental scholars and others but also challenges traditional assumptions at a number of important points offering a fresh interpretation of the evidence The Divine Office Catholic Church,1975 The Divine Office E. J. Quigley,2014-01-17 The most important prayer that the Church offers to Almighty God after the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass is the Officium Divinum or Divine Office contained in a liturgical book called the Breviarium Romanum or Roman Breviary In fact the Mass is part of the Divine Office and they are so intertwined in the public liturgy of the Church that one is really incomplete without the other This same Office is chanted by monks in traditional monasteries and nuns in traditional convents and is recited by members of lay orders and devout Catholic faithful To give praise and glory to God throughout the hours of the day in the name of the Church the clergy are placed under the duty of praying it daily From this fact it is called the Office the word in this sense coming from the Latin word officium meaning duty Recent popes like Pope St Pius X and

Pope Pius XII have encouraged the laity to participate in saying the Office as well and for this reason have bestowed rich indulgences upon those of the faithful who do so The Divine Office itself is made up of the 150 psalms of the Old Testament so divided throughout the seven days of the week that all the psalms are recited in one week The psalms the divinely inspired poetical prayers principally of King David have always been the center of the Church's liturgical worship just as they were at the temple during Old Testament times Besides the psalms there are readings from Sacred Scripture commentaries on Sacred Scripture from the Fathers and Doctors of the Church and short accounts of the lives of the Saints These readings follow the Church's calendar of liturgical seasons and feasts of the Saints St Vincent de Paul 1581-1660 tells us that the Divine Office is the school of all virtues The master who teaches us in it is the Holy Ghost the source of all truth it is also the Prophets Apostles and Saints of God The Divine Office is divided into eight Hours according as God is to be praised continuously throughout the hours of the day If one observes the ancient times Matins and Lauds are prayed before sunrise Prime Terce Sext and None are prayed during the first third sixth and ninth hours of daylight For example Scripture tells us that Our Lord hung on the cross from the sixth to the ninth hour that is from 12 00 to 15 00 Vespers is said as dusk falls followed by Compline which completes the day and the cycle of hours However the Hours may be said at any time at one's convenience

The 1942 Divine Office Jacob Crier, 2019-01-30 Second only to the Holy Mass in which the Most Blessed Eucharist is consecrated for God's Church the Divine Office has been traditionally considered to be the most important and holy of spiritual practices The Divine Office is based upon old Hebrew tradition of praying to God seven times per day While this may seem similar to the Muslim practice of praying five times per day our tradition dates back much further The first recorded use of the Divine Office as we Catholics would know it was in roughly 80 AD where the Roman historian Pliny the Younger noticed that Christians would set aside parts of the day to pray the Our Father and Psalms By the third and fourth centuries Church Fathers began to incorporate prayers and lessons into the traditional Hebrew prayer hours These prayer hours are mentioned in the Gospels and in the book of Acts but the Divine Office's creation can be attributed to the early monastic communities in both Europe and the Middle East

The School of Prayer John Brook, 1992 Anyone seeking a more complete prayer life eventually comes up against the Divine Office a formidable obstacle for the uninitiated Here is a clear simple and complete introduction that will guide anyone wishing to take up morning evening and night prayer from the Divine Office The basic principle of the Office is explained and the method of putting the principle into practice is detailed With the Office providing both the words and the discipline a consistent prayer life based on the Divine Office can be built Pocket sized with ribbon marker

The Sacrifice of Praise Vilma Gertrude Little, 1957 Divine Office Quigley E.
