Supporting Transfer Student Success Peggy L. Nuhn, Karen F. Kaufmann, 2020-11-06 This research based book with practical applications teaches academic librarians to support their transfer students effectively at both universities and community colleges even when transfer students' information literacy needs differ from those of other students Colleges and universities across the United States serve a large and growing population of transfer students Current estimates suggest that more than one third of college students transfer from one institution of higher education to another at least once At some institutions transfer students compose up to fifty to sixty percent of the new incoming class Academic librarians' understanding of the demographics and potential needs of transfer students is essential to supporting their success and mitigating transfer shock Just as public libraries often bridge gaps between individuals and services academic libraries can proactively support the often unique needs of transfer students by spearheading textbook affordability initiatives developing innovative programming and making appropriate referrals to non library student services In this practical guide to supporting transfer students authors Peggy L. Nuhn and Karen F. Kaufmann teach academic librarians how to optimize information literacy instruction support research help reduce stress and connect the library to virtual students They emphasize the importance of establishing partnerships with feeder institutions and other campus departments to best support transfer student success
