

Creativity and decision-making seminar report 1 week 6: critical thinking

- The topic of this tutorial was about critical thinking. The tutorial focused on enhancing our critical thinking skills through doing activities that require deep analysis and critical thinking.
- Key ideas of the tutorial:
  1. The importance and relevance of critical thinking: In this tutorial we discussed the importance of critical thinking and how it uses both judgmental and observational skills. We also discussed that critical thinking is not always negative, as it might help us to understand topics that we might struggle to understand without thinking critically about them.
  2. Benefits of critical thinking: We looked at some of the benefits of critical thinking and we discussed how critical thinking help us to learn quickly and how it leads to creative, unique ideas and new perspectives. We also looked at how critical thinking contribute to treating ideas and information in a meaningful way.
  3. Barriers of critical thinking: we also looked at some of the barriers and challenges that critical thinking face such as egocentrism, group bias, conformity and stereotypes.
- Activities: This tutorial contained 2 tutorials.
  1. Activity 1: Focused mainly on building arguments and how arguments should be clear, accurate, precise, relevant, complete. We did this through analysing 4 benefits of advertising (generate customers, introduce the product, explain the relevance of the product to customers, increase sales) and choosing one main benefit and build a solid argument for that benefit.
  1. Methods used to answer the question: In order to answer this question and build solid arguments for it, I used critical thinking methods and techniques that I learned earlier in the lecture. I analysed all four possible answers using the critical thinking standards that I learned in the lecture (clarity, accuracy, precision, relevance, completeness, consistency) I also asked the following questions in order to better analyse the topic:
    - How does advertising influence my perception about a product/ service?
    - How do customers benefit from advertising?
    - How companies benefit from advertising?
    - Does advertising affect my choices in purchasing a Product/Service?
    - Why does it affect my choices?

Creativity And Context A Seminar Report:

Creativity and Context Anne Buttimer, 1983

Theory and History in Regional Perspective Masamichi

Kawano, Karima Kourtiti, Peter Nijkamp, Yoshiro Higano, 2022-05-14 This collection of essays presents insight and methodology that are highly relevant for readers today as they consider the future of the world they live in. Experiencing the COVID 19 pandemic, people have realized how fragile the current economy is and the necessity for reconstructing the socio-economic system. That system, which was considered the default for so long, was succeeded by the analytical framework of economics and regional science. The contents of this book are diversified as are the achievements of Prof. Yasuhiro Sakai, to whom this volume is dedicated, and cover a wide area from mathematical and experimental economics to conventional and emerging fields of regional science. Some are timeless topics that have had new life breathed into them. Part I deals with, among other areas, risk management with uncertain events, the effectiveness and impacts of regulation and friction related to trading, the stability of strategic behavior and market equilibrium, and sustainable regional development and urban planning from the long-term perspective. Part II also presents a diversity of subjects including input-output analysis and computable general equilibrium (CGE) modelling for internal as well as external structure and network linkage, such as a value chain, openness, and creativity as related to competition among cities and regions, dispersion versus concentration, and inequality versus equality.

Handbook of Creative Cities D. E. Andersson,

E. Andersson, Charlotta Mellander, 2011-01-01 With the publication of The Rise of the Creative Class by Richard Florida in 2002, the creative city became the new hot topic among urban policymakers, planners, and economists. Florida has developed one of three path-breaking theories about the relationship between creative individuals and urban environments. The economist, E. Andersson, and the psychologist, Dean Simonton, are the other members of this creative triad. In the Handbook of Creative Cities, Florida, Andersson, and Simonton appear in the same volume for the first time. The expert contributors in this timely Handbook extend their insights with a varied set of theoretical and empirical tools. The diversity of the contributions reflects the multidisciplinary nature of creative city theorizing, which encompasses urban economics, economic geography, social psychology, urban sociology, and urban planning. The stated policy implications are equally diverse, ranging from libertarian to social democratic visions of our shared creative and urban future. Being truly international in its scope, this major Handbook will be particularly useful for policy makers that are involved in urban development, academics in urban economics, economic geography, urban sociology, social psychology, and urban planning, as well as graduate and advanced undergraduate students across the social sciences and in business.

Geographers Charles W. J. Withers, Hayden Lorimer, 2015-12-14 This twenty-sixth volume of Geographers

Biobibliographical Studies brings together essays on leading figures in time geography and regional theory, on GIS, on regional, cultural, and political geography, on scriptural geography, historical geography, and methodology, and on African exploration. Each essay engages with the individual's contribution to geography, their works, and their lives, and the intellectual and social contexts in which they worked and which helped shape them In addition and to mark the new co editorial pairing leading the series the volume has an essay on the history of GBS on the importance of biographical work in the history of geography and on issues to be addressed by the scholarly communities engaged in promoting this vital area of geographical research

Radical Embodied Cognitive Science of Human Behavior: Skill Acquisition, Expertise and Talent Development Ludovic Seifert, Keith Davids, Denis Hauw, Marek McGann, 2020-09-02 This eBook is a collection of articles from a Frontiers Research Topic Frontiers Research Topics are very popular trademarks of the Frontiers Journals Series they are collections of at least ten articles all centered on a particular subject With their unique mix of varied contributions from Original Research to Review Articles Frontiers Research Topics unify the most influential researchers the latest key findings and historical advances in a hot research area Find out more on how to host your own Frontiers Research Topic or contribute to one as an author by contacting the Frontiers Editorial Office frontiersin.org about contact

Studies of Higher Education and Research, 1990 The Wake of Erasmus Anne Buttimer, 1990 Concepts in Human Geography Carville Earle, Martin S. Kenzer, Kent Mathewson, 1996 This collection explores the origins development and applications of the most fundamental and enduring concepts in human geography Providing the most comprehensive examination of the field to date nine essays on substantive concepts such as nature culture space time region and ecology are flanked by seven essays on methodological concepts ranging from maps and models to feminism and postmodernism More universal in scope more conceptual in content and more accessible in exposition than books on themes and contemporary debates in geography Concepts in Human Geography makes an excellent text in advanced undergraduate and beginning graduate courses in geographic methods history and philosophy

The National Geographical Journal of India, 1984 Cities in Civilization Peter Hall, 1998 Ranging over 2 500 years Cities in Civilization is a tribute to the city as the birthplace of Western civilization Drawing on the contributions of economists and geographers of cultural technological and social historians Sir Peter Hall examines twenty one cities at their greatest moments Hall describes the achievements of these golden ages and outlines the precise combinations of forces both universal and local that led to each city's belle époque Hall identifies four distinct expressions of civic innovation artistic growth technological progress the marriage of culture and technology and solutions to evolving problems Descriptions of Periclean Athens Renaissance Florence Elizabethan London and nineteenth century Vienna bring to life those seedbeds of artistic and intellectual creativity Explorations of Manchester during the Industrial Revolution of Henry Ford's Detroit and of Palo Alto at the dawn of the computer age highlight centers of technological advances Tales of the creation of Los Angeles movie industry and the birth of the blues and rock n roll in Memphis depict the marriage of culture and technology Finally Hall celebrates cities that have been forced to solve problems created by their very size With Imperial Rome came the apartment block and aqueduct nineteenth century London introduced policing prisons and sewers twentieth century New York developed the skyscraper and Los Angeles became the first city without a center a city ruled instead by the car And in a fascinating conclusion Hall speculates on urban creativity in the twenty first century This penetrating study reveals not only the lives of cities but also the lives of the people who built them and created the civilizations within them A decade in the making Cities in Civilization is the definitive account of the culture of cities
