Crime And Punishment An Anthology:

Crime and Punishment Michael J. Gorr, Sterling Harwood, 1995 Crime and Punishment by Fyodor Dostoevsky Joseph Cowley, 2011-09-15 Dostoevsky was the son of a doctor His parents were hard working religious people but poor His first work Poor Folk was published by the poet Nekrassov and he found himself an instant celebrity A brilliant career seemed opened to him but in 1849 he was arrested and condemned to death A member of a group of young men who met to read Fourier and Proudhon he was accused of taking part in conversations against the censorship and of knowing of the intention to use a printing press After eight months in jail he was taken to the Semyonovsky Square to be shot Suddenly the troops beat a tattoo they were unbound and informed that his Majesty had spared their lives The sentence was commuted to hard labor four years of penal servitude in Siberia where he began Dead House and some years in a disciplinary battalion In 1864 he lost first wife and his brother Mihail He was in terrible poverty yet he took upon himself the payment of his brother's debts Weighed down by debt he wrote at heart breaking speed and is said never to have corrected his work The later years of his life were much softened by the tenderness and devotion of his second wife In June 1880 he made his famous speech at the unveiling of the monument to Pushkin in Moscow and was received with demonstrations of love and honor A few months later he died He was followed to the grave by a vast multitude of mourners He is still probably the most widely read writer in Russia In the words of a Russian critic He was one of ourselves a man of our blood and our bone but one who has suffered and has seen so much more deeply than we have his insight impresses us as wisdom that wisdom of the heart which we seek that we may learn from it how to live Index to Crime and Mystery Anthologies William Contento, Martin Harry Greenberg, 1990 Correctional Ethics John Kleinig, 2017-07-05 Correctional Ethics gathers the most prominent contributions to this burgeoning field ranging from the philosophy of punishment through to ethical appraisals of incarceration the professional responsibilities of prison personnel and formative work in restorative justice In addition it provides an annotated research agenda to help shape the development of a comprehensive correctional ethic For those working in correctional ethics this collection provides an essential resource Capital Punishment C. Cliff, 2003 The issue of capital punishment is a continually debated issue because it calls into question the values and direction of society How is a civilisation supposed to handle lawbreakers Are some crimes so heinous and some people so dangerous that the death penalty is the only appropriate response The United States Constitution prohibits cruel and unusual punishment but opinions on whether that includes capital punishment are vehement on both sides Many states have some form of death penalty and public opinion seems to indicate support of it in principle However many firestorms have erupted recently over the application of the penalty including the topics of its use on minors and those with mental disabilities There are also questions raised about how much of a factor race plays in a capital sentence Internationally several countries have foresworn the death penalty with certain countries in Europe and the Americas refusing to extradite criminal suspects including suspected terrorists to the US if capital punishment is a possible sentence With such politically flammable and ethically challenging issues hanging over it capital punishment is a vitally important issue to understand To help facilitate that study this book assembles a carefully selected and substantial listing of literature focussing on the death penalty Anyone researching this area of criminal justice will find this book an important tool as it offers easy access to the most relevant works about capital punishment Following the bibliography further access is provided with author title and subject indexes English Anthologies Jāmi'at al-Qāhirah.
